Apollo's crew heading home

ABOARD USS TICONDEROGA (UPI) — The exuberant Apollo 17 astronauts head home today for holiday reunions with their families and acclaim from colleagues for a flawless finale to the awesome project that put men on the moon.

A 6,300-mile journey beginning this evening awaited Eugene A. Cernan, Ronald E. Evans and Jack Schmitt. They will leave this old World War II aircraft carrier and arrive Thursday at 8 a.m. MST at Ellington Air Force Base near Houston's space center.

They were pronounced in "great shape and extremely happy" over their 13 million mile space trip, that began with a fiery night-time launch from Cape Kennedy on Dec. 7, and with the three-day lunar excursion by Cernan and Schmitt. The astronauts fly from the carrier tonight to Samoa where Gov. John Haydon has planned a South Seas welcome while they change planes for the flight to Houston, with a refueling stop enroute at Norton AFB, Calif.

"Samoa has played a pretty big part in the pickup of Apollo crews," Haydon said. "There will be a large turnout for the last Apollo astronauts. All the school children are coming out to greet them, and there will be a program by Samoan singers and dancers."

The astronauts will fly from the carrier at 7:30 p.m., landing in Samoa 15 minutes later. They will leave an hour later for Houston aboard a C141 Starlifter jet.

Andrus' check closes 'candy cane dispute'

By RICHARD CHARNOCK
BOISE (UPI) — Gov. Cecil D. Andrus settled the "candy cane" dispute with a personal check Wednesday and advised those involved there had better not be another similar case.

Andrus made the move shortly before a Board of Examiners meeting at which Auditor Joe R. Williams intended to present a controversial claim for $6.15 worth of Christmas tree ornaments. Robert Lenaghan, acting director of administrative services, put forth the claim as head of the state agency responsible for decorating the capitol and the capitol mall.

Williams, assaying the claim and discovering it included "candy canes" among other items, questioned where the trimmings were to be used and rejected the claim.

He said later that he doubted the ornaments were to be used on the big Engelmann Spruce donated to the state by Mrs. James Anderson of Boise.

"You couldn't buy anything for $6.15 that would amount to anything on this big tree," Williams said.

Instead, he said, he suspected the decorations were to be used in trimming the Christmas tree of a departmental office.

Lenaghan accused the auditor of usurping the duties of his office, saying that as acting director of administrative services it was his decision and not Williams' where the decorations would be put.

He told newsmen the state paid for decorating all trees in his department and contended even the one in his office was on public view.

Contending the proposed expenditure was an improper use of state funds, Williams refused to pay the claim when Lenaghan returned it to him and said he would take it before the Board of Examiners for a decision.

Andrus, Attorney General W. Anthony Park and Secretary of State Pete T. Cenarrusa comprise the high-level board

Truman remains serious

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (UPI) — Harry S. Truman's impaired kidneys increased their output today but still were not purifying his blood adequately. Doctors said the former president would die if the situation were not reversed.

He was in "very serious" condition.

"The blood urea nitrogen level is mounting in spite of increased output," Research Hospital spokesman John Dreyer said.

He said should the blood urea nitrogen level increase to a certain point, the 88-year-old former president would go into a uremic coma and "death could result within one week of this coma if he could not be brought out of it by the doctors."

Who would have thought 40-degree temperatures would seem balmy?

Incumbents retain CSI trustee seats

By GEORGE WILEY
Times-News writer

TWIN FALLS — Incumbents John Coleman and John Hepworth won landslide re-election victories to the College of Southern Idaho board Tuesday.

2,894 votes were cast, about 14 times greater than the 209 votes cast in the most recent CSI trustee election. Nine candidates had sought the two terms.

Coleman polled 2,014 votes, 70.2 per cent of those cast for the six-year-term trustee seat. His nearest opponent, Dr. Werner Kramer, drew 387 votes, 13.5 per cent.

Others in the race were Leon Wright, 137 votes, 5.8 per cent; Rudolph Barchas, 238 votes, 8.3 per cent, and David Dellett, 61 votes, 2.1 per cent. Rex Hall, a write in, polled 2 votes.

In the two-man race for the two year term, John Hepworth's 2,525 votes were 88.7 per cent of those cast in the race. His opponent, Stanley Wachtstetter, polled 322 votes, or 11.3 per cent.

At a meeting of trustee candidates last night at CSI, both incumbents expressed gratification with their victories.

Asked if he felt the results were an affirmation of current CSI board policies and procedures, Hepworth said "Well, I certainly don't think they're disaffirmative of our present policies."

Coleman said "I feel real gratified with the results of the election and that people generally feel we're doing a good job."

CSI President Dr. James L. Taylor said "It's gratifying to see people have confidence in me, in the board of trustees, and in this institution."

"Get out the stamp," one of the board members said jokingly, in reference to a statement by student candidate Stanley Wachtstetter that the board was a "rubber stamp" for Dr. Taylor.

The candidates said the large voter turnout was healthy and that the interest generated in the CSI election was to the benefit of the school.

Defeated candidate Rudolph Barchas said "I hope that the election has brought to light issues that will receive attention from the board of trustees." He said he still intended to work to make CSI a more challenging school academically.

"This community should never underestimate the ability of local students to put genuine scholastic effort into a junior college education," he said.

Dr. Taylor said he thought the board would consider issues raised in the campaign, particularly questions raised about the quality of the CSI library.

The election was the first in which most CSI students were eligible to vote.

But, according to an estimate by Dr. Taylor, only about 200 students voted. Exact determination of the number of student votes must wait certification of the poll books.

If that estimate were accurate, student voters would have voted in a lower percentage than non-student voters.

About 200 student votes would be in the neighborhood of an 8 per cent turnout by eligible student voters, compared to about 10 per cent voter turnout by non-student voters in the two counties.

US air armada hits N. Vietnam again

SAIGON (UPI) — A force estimated at 600 U.S. war planes struck North Vietnam again today in the third day of the resumed all-out bombing, according to information available in Saigon. The U.S. Command reported the loss of a third B52 and the death of two U.S. sailors aboard a 7th Fleet ship.

The Polish news agency PAP said in a dispatch from Hanoi that American planes hit the Polish cargo ship Pol Konrad in Haiphong Harbor today and that several crewmen were killed and several wounded. It gave no further details, but North Vietnam also reported new raids today.

Hanoi Radio went off the air at noon today, indicating the raids might have knocked out power plants in the Hanoi area. It earlier reported "many civilians" killed. The North Vietnamese delegation in Paris issued a statement saying the raids continued through Tuesday night and today.

In military parlance, the U.S. losses associated with bombardment have been "light," but the U.S. Command admits that three B52s have been shot down along with an A7 Corsair attack bomber and an F111 sweeping fighter-bomber.

Hanoi claims it has shot down 13 American war planes, including five B52s, two of them shot down over Hanoi today.

Seven more fliers were reported missing. Hanoi announced the capture of six B52 crewmen on Tuesday.

The U.S. Command also reported that the destroyer USS Goldsborough was hit by a Communist shell Tuesday night while on a firing run near Thanh Hoa, killing two sailors and wounding three. Radio Hanoi claimed three U.S. ships were set afire in the incident.

New air strikes denounced

By United Press International
China joined the Soviet Union today in denouncing resumption of the all-out U.S. air war against North Vietnam. Hanoi assailed President Nixon's peace goals as "a whopping lie" and the Viet Cong cast doubt on the future of the Paris peace talks.

A Chinese Foreign Ministry statement broadcast in full by Peking Radio and the New China News Agency called the new bombing "a most serious step" toward prolonging and intensifying the Vietnam War, and called the bombing a new obstacle to peace.

The Soviet leadership issued a similar statement Tuesday through the official Tass news agency. The statement demanded that the raids be halted and that the United States quickly sign an agreement to end the war.

Radio Hanoi, in a series of broadcasts Tuesday night and today, denounced the air attacks and said "these utterly serious acts of war escalation have laid stark naked the bellicose, odorous nature of U.S. imperialism. The Nixon administration's claim that it is trying its best to restore peace in Vietnam is a zapping lie."

Mme. Nguyen Thi Binh, the Viet Cong "Foreign Minister" and chief negotiator at the semipublic Thursday talks, left for Moscow today en route to Vietnam to confer with her government and "ask for new directives." Her departure left open the status of further Vietnam peace negotiations.

The fate also of a scheduled technical-level negotiating session between Hanoi and U.S. representatives was uncertain with American planes carrying out heavy bombing over North Vietnam.

TF sewage plant funds request filed

TWIN FALLS — Application for funding of the $4 million Twin Falls secondary sewage treatment plant has been submitted.

City Manager Jean Milar said today the project includes some trunk sewer lines and the secondary phase of the treatment plant in the Snake River Canyon. Milar said the city will probably get between 80 and 90 per cent outside funding for the project. Engineers are ready to begin designing the facility.

Milar said the application for federal and state funding goes to the Idaho Department of Environmental Protection and Health for approval by the Water Pollution Control Division. It is then sent to the regional office of the Environmental Protection Agency, Seattle.

He said the cities of Soda Springs and Pocatello recently completed treatment plant plans and obtained 90 per cent federal and state money.

City participation money in Twin Falls is already available from the 1961 bonding program which built the original primary treatment facility. At that time plans were established for the secondary system which will be constructed as an addition to the primary unit.

Milar said the primary unit will continue to function as the first stage of treatment. New plans have been completed to refine the secondary equipment to carry it somewhat beyond the second stage but not into the third, he said.

The Environmental Protection Agency and Department of Health had set the end of 1973 as the deadline by which the new treatment facility was to be operative. Milar said since that time some new regulations and requirements have been established by the two agencies, requiring an extension of the deadline.

It is to be functioning during 1974, he said. Meetings have been held this week with Idaho Frozen Foods Inc. and the city of Kimberly to negotiate for participation in the project.

If the system is to be designed to serve these two outlets as well as the city of Twin Falls, a decision will be needed shortly, Milar said.

The processing plant's output of industrial waste is larger than the entire city of Twin Falls, he said, but by sharing one facility it is believed both could save money and provide adequate treatment.

Holiday season sidelights

By H. J. HELLER

United Press International

It's the Christmas season again, with all the happy, sad and sometimes funny things that seem to happen this time of year.

In Morgantown, W. Va., bellringers thought nothing of it when a donor slipped a bill into their Salvation Army kettle.

But the bells temporarily stopped ringing when the collectors unfolded the bill and found a picture of President Grover Cleveland. It was on a $1,000 bill dropped in the kettle outside the First National Bank Building.

And in Reno, Nev., Lisa McBride and some other students at Trane Junior High "felt we ought to do something. Christmas is a time for giving."

So the students gave up their homes for Christmas parties this year to help out a Minnesota man, an innocent bystander shot during a gun battle between police and a murder suspect in Reno Oct. 23.

Trane students made cookies and cards for the victim, John Glau, his wife, Mary, and their three children. They also collected $3.18 to provide a telephone fund so Mr. and Mrs. Glau can contact their youngsters in Minnesota during the holidays.

Here are some other Christmas stories from around America:

NEW YORK — "We are very sad to see," the chairman of Tiffany told the chairman of the First National City Bank, "that you are once again polluting the esthetic atmosphere of Park Avenue by lighting that loud and vulgar Christmas tree."

The "loud and vulgar" tree Walter Hoving was talking about in his letter to Walter Wriston is composed of hundreds of light bulbs strung on three flag poles on the seventh story. Atop the creation shine three electric stars that form a symbol similar to the one the bank uses in its advertising.

The bank had no comment. But the tree lost none of its glow.

BELLEVEILLE, Mich. — Hajime Takeuchi, 16, a Japanese exchange student living here, found so much interest among local residents in oragami, the Japanese art of paper folding, he decided to arrange for an oragami Christmas gift for his American friends.

Takeuchi enlisted the cooperation of some of his friends in his hometown of Tokyo and before long Takeuchi received several large packages containing some 4,475 intricate, multicolored folded birds into five separate displays, each labeled, "Peace, Love and Friendship from Japan."

The gift is on display during the holidays at the Belleville United Presbyterian Church.

CHICAGO — Ziggy, the 13,000-pound elephant released from solitary confinement only last summer, got his Christmas present this week — a mate.

Ziggy, at 54, the largest and oldest elephant in captivity was housed in a cramped cell at Brookfield Zoo for more than 30 years after attacking his trainer.

Since his release into special new roomy quarters, Ziggy's life has slowly been returning to normal and officials at the zoo decided he should have a mate and chose Minnie, a 42-year-old Asian elephant.

WEST MILFORD, N.J. — The Kerry Smith family has some unusual house guests for the Christmas holidays.

Smith works for a drive-through wildlife preserve here and agreed to take home three lion cubs to keep them from being shuttled daily between the preserve's nursery and employees' homes.

The triplets, rejected by their mother, require around-the-clock attention and feedings by hand and by bottle.

DETROIT — Peter Smith, a citizen who decided to play Santa Claus, came to the aid of Mother Waddles' Perpetual Mission Center when the Detroit Streets and Railways Commission played the part of Scrooge and reneged on a promise to donate a 1956 truck worth $25 to deliver 1,300 food baskets to poor families for Christmas.

The beat-up state truck was promised to Mother Waddles by DSR General Manager Ed Davis. But the supervising commission of the DSR said Davis' Christmas generosity exceeded his authority. So they took the $25 truck back.

Smith was one of several persons to call with offers of help. "He said we could have a small van," said Mother Waddles. "It's not large enough to hold a refrigerator upright but it can be used to deliver baskets."

Peter Fink, a DSR commissioner, said giving away a city truck would establish a "bad precedent" and make the DSR "another united foundation."

Nixon passes exam

BETHESDA, Md. (UPI) — President Nixon got a clean bill of health today in his annual physical checkup at Bethesda naval hospital. But he was again advised to get more exercise.

His personal physician, Maj. Gen. Walter Tkach, said after the two-hour examination that the President's health "continues to be fine."

As he approaches his 60th birthday on Jan. 9 — 11 days before inauguration for his second term — Nixon is holding his weight at 173 pounds, same as it was 20 years ago, the doctor said.

Tkach told reporters the President has not missed a day's work since being in office and said he told Nixon his only complaint was that the chief executive doesn't relax enough.

Overall, Tkach reported, "the President is in excellent health — same as last year."

"Did Tkach want Nixon to get more exercise?"

"You bet I do," said Tkach but added he didn't think Nixon would follow his advice.

"I talked to the President about this and he smiled and said he would try to do more of it," Tkach said. "He still refuses to play golf. He insists it takes too much time. I do not press the President on exercise. I don't want to become a nuisance."

He said he was encouraging Nixon to spend more time in Florida and to swim more, and would like to see him go for more walks.

Tkach said all tests showed the pressures of office have had little effect on Nixon's physical condition. Today's tests turned up these results: Tkach said blood pressure 10 over 80, a slight drop from last year when it was 115 over 80 but well within the normal range; pulse 70 before exercise, 80 immediately after exercise; chest clear; eyes, ears, nose and throat, no abnormalities; glands, same.

County Coroner Cloyce Edwards said the death was a suicide, the result of a 22-caliber pistol wound in the head. He was pronounced dead at Magic Valley Memorial Hospital.

Power company customers grow

TWIN FALLS — Considerable growth in Magic Valley is shown in Idaho Power Co. customer increase figures released today by Earl Haroldsen, division manager.

He said the southern division of the firm which covers Magic Valley areas has 1,723 more customers than it had a year ago. The reports for the month of November, just received in the Twin Falls office, show there are 557 more electrical hookups this year than there were in November, 1971.

The Twin Falls area, Haroldsen said, covers Twin Falls, Filer, Kimberly and the rural surrounding areas served from the Twin Falls center. Of the Twin Falls new customers, 481 are residential meters, 70 are small commercial connections and six are for irrigation customers.

Division wide, 1,408 residential meters have been installed and 163 small business meters with one large commercial meter and 150 irrigation installations.

For October, reports show 548 more meters in the Twin Falls area than a year ago of which 460 were residential and 82 small business.

In the division, October figures were up 1,722 more than a year ago in October.

Next to Twin Falls, the most rapidly expanding area in Magic Valley on the basis of electrical connections is the Hailey area with 544 more customers this year in November than November, 1971. Of these 483 were residential, 40 were small commercial services and 1 irrigation.

Jerome has 206 more customers than it had a year ago of which 172 are residential, 11 irrigation.

Haroldsen reported many of the new residential customers in the Twin Falls service area were in the Filer and Kimberly areas which are becoming "bedroom" communities to Twin Falls.

Many persons who work in Twin Falls are building or buying homes in the smaller communities and driving to Twin Falls daily.

Gunmen murder 2 in N. Ireland

BELFAST (UPI) — Gunmen killed two men in Northern Ireland today in what police called deliberate murder. One of a series of bombs intended to disrupt Christmas shopping wrecked a Belfast hotel and a government office.

Police said an off-duty private in the Ulster Defense Regiment, a part-time militia, was shot once in the back as he walked beside a reservoir in Londonderry today. He died in a hospital.

David McAleese, 37, a Roman Catholic father of four children, was hit by two bullets fired from a passing car in Ballymagarrett, a mainly Protestant area of Belfast, as he waited for a bus to take him to work. Hospital doctors could not save his life.

Army spokesmen said two bombs three miles apart exploded at the same moment in Belfast. One wrecked the motor vehicle tax office in the center of the city. The other severely damaged the Beach Lawn Hotel on the city's outskirts. No casualties were reported.

The 33 Apollo astronauts flew 18,010,337 miles in space.

A thought for the day: British writer Rudyard Kipling said, "A woman's guess is much more accurate than a man's certainty."

Rumblings from the Kremlin and from Peking which followed the resumption of American bombing of North Vietnam also were held to signify new tensions, though their effect on relations with the United States is uncertain.

The international scene had been set until a week or two ago on fair weather, with anticipation of a Vietnam peace settlement by Christmas.

The picture has now dramatically changed. Western diplomats said a new situation fraught with uncertainty and possibly some dangers will prevail at the start of the new year.

On previous calculations a Vietnam peace settlement by year's end would have been followed by an early Nixon trip to a number of Western capitals or a summit meeting in Brussels with Allied leaders.

Diplomats express anxiety

LONDON (UPI) — Western diplomats voiced anxiety today that the flareup in the Vietnam War might upset the entire timetable of international diplomacy in the coming year.

They said they feared above all that American preoccupation with Vietnam might delay President Nixon's anticipated European trip early in the new year and the projected revamping of American-European relations.

Rumblings from the Kremlin and from Peking which followed the resumption of American bombing of North Vietnam also were held to signify new tensions, though their effect on relations with the United States is uncertain.

The families of Cernan and Evans were ready for the return of their men. And Evans' wife, Jan, said she's making big preparations to celebrate their 15th wedding anniversary Friday.

"I couldn't be happier that the last man on the moon has been my man," said Barbara Cernan. "We're making history. And we're not the kind of people to stop here."

Schmitt, first geologist to fly in space, is a bachelor. His mother and sister watched the televised splashdown in Tucson, Ariz.

The Apollo 17's flawless splashdown in the Pacific Tuesday wrote an end to the $25 billion program that put 12 astronauts on the lunar surface for a total of 80 hours, 35 minutes. Altogether, 33 astronauts were involved in the program starting in 1967, and they logged 104 days, 5 hours and 3 minutes traveling a total of 10,070,337 miles in space.

The three Apollo 17 astronauts will make technical reports Friday, Saturday and Sunday, but they'll have next week off for Christmas with most of their intense debriefings scheduled to begin Jan. 2.

Their first public report is tentatively set Jan. 3.

Their record harvest of 258 pounds of rock and soil from the moon's Taurus-Littrow Valley is leaving the carrier first and should reach Houston's lunar receiving laboratory before dawn Thursday.

Top priority has been assigned to the orange dirt from the rim of a crater called Shorty. Scientists hope to take their first look at it the day after Christmas.

Geologists are betting the orange material will be proof that the moon has had relatively recent volcanism, possibly "only" 500 million years ago. Steam or other volcanic gases normally rust or otherwise alter minerals and create orange and red colors.

Also receiving special attention are five thumb-sized California desert mice that made the 1.3-million-mile voyage in sealed aluminum tubes.

They will be flown to San Francisco for police escort to a hospital where their brains will be examined to see how tissue is affected by cosmic radiation.

Cernan, Evans and Schmitt were aboard this veteran recovery ship in less than an hour after their command ship America splashed down only 4,850 feet from their aiming point Tuesday. The spacecraft, seared by the 5,000-degree heat, was hoisted aboard an hour later.

The astronauts were met by 1,500 cheering Ticonderoga crewmen and VIPs. They underwent brief medical check-ups before showering and settling down to a relaxed dinner.

"I am very pleased by their condition," reported Dr. Charles K. LaPinta. "They look fine. They are extremely happy, just about the most exuberant of any.

"They have no major problems that we could see, no history of anything to worry about. A few minor skin irritations, nothing serious."

At the Manned Spacecraft Center in Houston, Dr. W. Royce Hawkins said Cernan lost 9-12 pounds during the flight and Schmitt 4-14 pounds while Evans gained 1-12.

Hawkins said Cernan's weight loss was a little high, but that it probably was caused by the stomach gas problems the space commander had during the flight.

Vast Yank air armada raids Viet

Renewed bombing of the North was being conducted under the tightest information blackout ever imposed by the U.S. Command in Saigon, apparently under orders from the White House. But on the basis of Communist reports from Hanoi, sheer deduction from what was not being said at military briefings, and unofficial sources in Saigon this was the picture:

At least 500 of the 700 fighter-bombers available to the U.S. Air Force, Navy and Marines in southeast Asia are hitting North Vietnam daily, along with more than 100 of the available 200 B-52 strategic bombers.

Although no official figures were available, estimates were that well over 20,000 tons of bombs have hit North Vietnam since the raids resumed Monday. The force of the atomic bomb which hit Hiroshima on Aug. 6, 1945, was estimated at 20,000 tons of TNT.

Although a U.S. Command spokesman said, "I think you will be entirely safe in assuming we are not hitting civilian targets," in the Hanoi-Haiphong area, the U.S. planes apparently are hitting military targets closer to civilian targets than ever before.

At least one major power plant, perhaps one of the two which never before have been bombed in downtown Hanoi and downtown Haiphong, apparently was hit. This apparently curtailed power to Radio Hanoi, which cancelled some programs.

The port of Haiphong apparently was devastated again in the first major strikes against its shipping facilities since last April. Radio Hanoi described Hanoi itself as a "huge battle area."

American war planes are ranging within 15 miles of the China border and concentrating on severing the newly restored raillines into China.

Dozens of cruisers and destroyers are bombarding coastal areas as far as 12 miles inland from Than Hoa northward.

Seven crewmen parachuted to safety in Thailand before a B-52 crashed Tuesday after being crippled by a SAM2 missile over North Vietnam, but crews of the other two B-52s, shot down near Hanoi, were listed as missing along with the pilot of the A7 and the two-man crew of the F111.

Heavy ground fighting was reported on South Vietnam's northern front and government infantry battled Communist tanks south of Da Nang, UPI correspondent Alan Dawson reported. Despite the heavy fighting in Quang Tri Province and south of Da Nang, sunny skies in that area brought only 50 sorties throughout the five northern provinces, indicating the planes were being diverted to the North.

Skiing daily

TWIN FALLS — Magic Mountain ski area will begin daily operation Friday for the remainder of the Christmas holidays.

Lifts and other facilities will operate Friday through Jan. 1 with the exception of Christmas Day.

Buses will run daily, beginning Friday. They leave Jerome at 8:20 a.m. and Twin Falls from the Newton Sports Center parking lot at 9 a.m.

Four inches of new snow has fallen at the area since Sunday. Runs will be packed for the Friday opening.

3rd man nabbed in TF robbery

TWIN FALLS — A third suspect has been arrested in connection with the Nov. 20 robbery and shooting at the Union Bus Depot in Twin Falls.

Robert Dean Briggs, 26, Buhl, was arrested Tuesday morning by Twin Falls Police. He was charged with robbery and assault with a deadly weapon with intent to commit murder.

Arrested earlier in connection with the robbery were Paul J. Bjornson, 24, and James (Skipper) Robinson, 23, both of Twin Falls.

Bjornson and Robinson were also charged with robbery and assault with a deadly weapon with intent to commit murder.

According to Twin Falls Chief of Detectives Tim Qualls, Briggs was originally arrested last week in Glendale, Ariz., on a felony check warrant issued by Twin Falls Police. Briggs was returned from Arizona to Twin Falls by Twin Falls County sheriff's deputies. Qualls said.

Qualls would not comment on Briggs' alleged role in the robbery and shooting. Early reports of the incident indicated that two men had entered the bus station at the time of the crime.

Bids set record

NEW ORLEANS (UPI) — Oilmen have bid an all-time high of $1.6 billion to drill for a three-month supply of oil and gas buried below the Gulf of Mexico off Louisiana.

The record bid came Tuesday during an Interior Department auction of 600,000 acres of submerged land off Louisiana's west coast between Morgan City and Cameron.

The Interior Department received 720 bids on 119 of the 132 tracts of land which experts estimate will produce only enough energy to supply the United States for three months. Clear-smoking oil tycoons huddled in the ornate, mirrored Sheraton Charles Hotel ballroom as John Rankin of the Bureau of Land Management read off the bids.

What do doctors recommend for patients in pain?

Doctors all over the country dispense over 50,000,000 of these tablets to their patients each year.

There are many medications a physician or dentist can prescribe for pain. Some are narcotic; many are available only on prescription. But there is one pain reliever available without prescription. Doctors dispense again and again. Anacin.

Each year, doctors give over 50,000,000 Anacin tablets to their patients in pain. If doctors think enough about Anacin to dispense all these tablets, what better recommendation can you ask when you are in pain? You see, Anacin contains more of the pain reliever doc-

WASHINGTON — It's being kept very hush-hush, but a top official of India's Ministry of Food recently spent a week in Washington paving the way for a huge purchase of wheat, perhaps as much as 2.5 million tons. As usual with India, the transaction would be on credit. That's what New Delhi wants. Whether it gets it remains to be seen. India already owes this country more than $7.3 billion in loans, of which about half of these billions are repayable in "foreign currencies" — meaning India's steadily depreciating rupees, which remain in that country as so-called "counterpart funds" and are usable only there. In addition to these immense credits, the U.S. has given India outright another $1.807 billion in economic grants. Much of that was in grain and other food to keep India's teeming millions from starving. Some $518 million of this assistance was in the form of "emergency relief" of various kinds.

Total U.S. economic aid to India to date is in excess of $9.120 billion. The secret visit of the Food Ministry official is an old, old story. It never fails to happen. Everytime India runs into a serious food crisis and is faced with the likelihood of widespread famine, New Delhi invariably starts snuggling up and spouting sweet talk.

That's what's behind that sudden rash of sugary overtures for the "restoration of friendly and cooperative relations" — meaning the U.S. to extend the friendship and do the cooperating to the tune of more hundreds of millions of dollars in grain and other food supplies.

Blandly shoved in the background are Prime Minister Indira Gandhi's venomous attacks only two months ago blaming the U.S. Central Intelligence Agency for just about all of India's travails and tribulations. Not only did she vehemently accuse the U.S. of being responsible for her aggressive war against Pakistan, but she even intimated the CIA was somehow behind cyclones from the Bay of Bengal.

You name it, and the fiery lady was willing to fault the U.S. Now, only weeks later, it's a very different tune! No scathing recriminations; no harsh denunciations; no shrill exhortations. Instead, it's billing, and cooing, and wooing. Listen to Foreign Minister Swaran Singh sweetly telling the Indian Parliament:

"We have much in common with that great country (U.S.) and its people. We cherish common values, such as belief in democracy, individual liberty and human dignity. There is no reason why our relations with the United States should not only be normalized but become friendly and cooperative." This unctuous preachment was hooped as the official policy of the Indian government. Significantly, it was made on the heels of the secret visit of the top Food Ministry official.

The Zoning Plan

Some residents of Twin Falls are getting jumpy before there is any need to get jumpy. The unnecessary concern comes from the comprehensive zoning plan for the county now under discussion and study.

All citizens should realize the plan is not a mandate. Rather it is a suggestion of what should be done. Before any proposal becomes the rule of the land there will be continued study, many public hearings on the various suggestions and then the final action by members of the county commission. It is a long way from now until then.

We have been informed that another concern right at the moment is a possible conflict of interest situation involving the chairman of the Twin Falls County Planning and Zoning Commission. It is now public knowledge that the possibility of a protest is being discussed in some circles. Those considering lodging such a protest believe a conflict of interest does, in fact, exist because the chairman is engaged in the real estate business.

The possibility of a protest in this regard will come to a head in the near future or not at all. The commission is slated for reorganization at a January meeting.

Meanwhile the in-depth and piece by piece story of the zoning proposal is going forward as it should. These proposals as such should be no real cause for alarm at the present time. It is too early to get all-up tight.

Prevention Needed

Fires always seem to multiply when unusually cold weather strikes. News stories of such disasters, many causing heavy loss of life, are proof that the pattern has not changed. Inadequacy or improper functioning of heating plants frequently is listed as the cause.

A new development in large cities is greater loss of life in fires in high-rise buildings. Two occurred recently in New Orleans and Atlanta. Such buildings, of recent or comparatively recent construction, were widely regarded as being less risky.

Construction experts say some fires in high-rise buildings could be at least partially attributable to sealed windows. This practice in modern buildings of this type is designed to facilitate air-conditioning in summer and heating in winter.

It also makes fighting fires in tall structures more difficult, according to some fire officials. Others say sprinkler systems aid in preventing fires from spreading.

One way or another, it should be possible to prevent the loss of life that has occurred in fires in some of these tall buildings.

MR. SPECTATOR

The Class Of 1923

The Twin Falls High School Class of 1923 will meet on July 13, 1973 for the 50th reunion.

That's a long time back and yet there are quite a few of the class members still hanging around. But the big problem is finding out the address of members who have lost touch.

Class of 1923 members — at least those in charge of arrangements for the big event — call the 26 members for which addresses or whereabouts are lacking the "lost souls."

Realizing that the gals might have changed their names through marriage and that some of them might have gone to the "Classroom" in the sky, we still offered to aid in the big search.

Invitations must be sent out in January so there isn't really as much time as some have been led to believe. But Mr. Spectator solicits your help. If you know the correct name or whereabouts or both of any of these 26 individuals — graduates of the Twin Falls High School 50 years ago — please get on the ball and communicate with any of the six people whose names and addresses are given following the "missing graduate" list.

The "lost souls": Luverna Adams, Florence Campbell, Helen Campbell, Hilda Chase, Donald Crow, Lourine Daugherty, Alfred Dean, Elma Jean Ducker, Bernadine Follis, Helen Garrison, Hazel Hibner, Helen Jungst, Bernice Kelly, Verda McCreary, Thelma McCreary, Morris

Robinson, Elizabeth Romes, Charlotte Shears, Walter Sparks, Mary Taylor, Theodore Taylor, Cramell Tolliver, Archie Tucker, Victor Velarde, Mildred Willson and Ruth Youngs.

If you know the why or whereabouts, then communicate with one of the following:

Nettie Bowen Magel at 733-1242; Nona Yochem Verano at 734-3745; Bessie Dunning at 733-1858. Or write: Milo Davis, Box 66, Buhl; Bill Ostrander, 105 Lincoln, Twin Falls, or Leonard Scott, Box 812, Twin Falls.

And, of course, Mr. Spectator wants to thank Lola Vazquez, who fed us the information on this great upcoming event.

GIVEAWAY DEPT:

We have a beautiful white and yellow Tom Cat, about five months old, we must give away. Please call 734-3624 in Twin Falls.

A BRAVE TEACHER

Mrs. Harry Merrick, a teacher at Bickel school, is a brave — and thoughtful — gal. The other evening she took all 35 members of her 6th grade class to the Depot Grill for a smorgasbord dinner. She picked up the check — as the kids were her guests. Just a way, she told a friend who told Mr. Spectator, to let students know she appreciated them. And the youngsters must have appreciated it too — because we are told that all were perfect ladies and gentlemen.

Is UN Needed

WASHINGTON — Except for providing a collection of diplomatic Mafiosi with luxurious hotel suites and fat expense accounts, does the United Nations today offer any rational excuse for its continued existence?

I think not. The recent 76 to 34 vote rejecting strong international action against terrorism and calling for a "study" of its causes should convince even the most bubbleheaded do-gooder that a death certificate be prepared forthwith and the so-called "peace" organization be given an indecent burial in some obscure Potter's Field.

In fact, the mob of two-bit nations — most of them black African and of doubtful legitimacy — which rammed through the "study" resolution did not even condemn terrorism as such. Instead, they predictably denounced the continuation of repressive and terrorist acts by colonial racist and alien regimes in denying peoples their legitimate right to self-determination and independence.

Which is to say that countries such as Algeria, which sponsored the resolution, most Arab states and black Africans regard terror as a legitimate instrument of national policy against their enemies. And of course the Soviet Union, Red China and other nations in the Communist bloc went along for political profit.

The philosophy expressed here is that the end justifies the means, said Austria's Erik Nettel. "We cannot accept this philosophy. We have lived through the suffering brought by this kind of philosophy." He did not have to name names — Hitler, Mussolini, Stalin.

Aside from their interest in influencing the so-called "emerging nations," Peking, Moscow and their lackeys were voting for what might loosely be called their principles. They have used terrorism as a "legitimate instrument of national policy" in the past and naturally desired to keep their options open. Next month, for instance, pathetic Burundi might be ripe for a Czechoslovakian-type invasion — or Cambodia.

Well, the outlaw bloc almost surely is due for a kick in the teeth. The United States, Great Britain, Canada, Israel and Italy among others have reluctantly decided their only recourse is to by-pass the UN and take unilateral or collective action to deal with world terrorists. Economic sanctions against countries which refuse to prosecute skyjackers and other terrorists are stronger weapons than speeches in the General Assembly. Not even the Russians and Chinese are rich enough to survive such sanctions. They would destroy the Algeria of the world community.

What points up the awful irresponsibility of the UN is that neither of the resolutions seeking action against terrorists was outrageously repressive. One called for the convening of an international conference early next year to draw up a convention against terrorist acts. The other called for the UN International Law Commission to draft a convention to be "considered" by an international conference.

But no. The outlaw bloc of 76 would take no chances. It insisted upon retaining the right to massacre another 26 persons at the Tel Aviv airport, to slaughter another 11 members of the Israeli Olympic team at Munich, to mail letter bombs to officials of countries they happen not to like much, to murder another Kennedy.

What is a warce? I asked him. It is neither peace nor war. It is actually a combination of both. For some time now the world has needed a new word to describe the situation many countries are in. In the Middle East you do not have peace, nor do you have a fighting war. The English language has no word for this predicament so I invented one which I call warce.

How would warce apply to Vietnam? If the United States signs a treaty with Hanoi which the South Vietnamese refuse to ratify, you will have a state of warce. President Nixon may call it a peace, but he would only be kidding himself and the American people.

What would the "warce" consist of? I asked. "You would probably have a cease-fire with some fighting on both sides. The North Vietnamese and Viet Cong will continue sporadic probing of the South Vietnamese defenses, and the South Vietnamese will probably make occasional attacks on Viet Cong strongholds. But both sides will probably be stalemated and the warce could continue for years."

"Well, I guess a warce in Indochina is better than nothing," I said.

"It might be the coming thing. Since peace treaties are so hard to come by, I would advocate that nations sign warce treaties instead. It could save face on both sides. Many of our world leaders consider the signing of a peace pact a sign of weakness. But no one could criticize them at home if they said they had agreed to a warce."

I imagine if he couldn't have it any other way, President Nixon would settle for a generation of warce. I said, "The advantage of warce," Hegelstein said, "is that Congress wouldn't have to declare it. If the President decided he wanted to involve the country in a warce, he could do it on his own."

And if he succeeded, I said, he could be nominated for the Nobel Warce Prize.

I believe the nation would thrive on a warce footing," Hegelstein said. "You wouldn't have to shut down your defense plants and put a lot of people out of work, and at the same time you would use very little of the stuff to kill people."

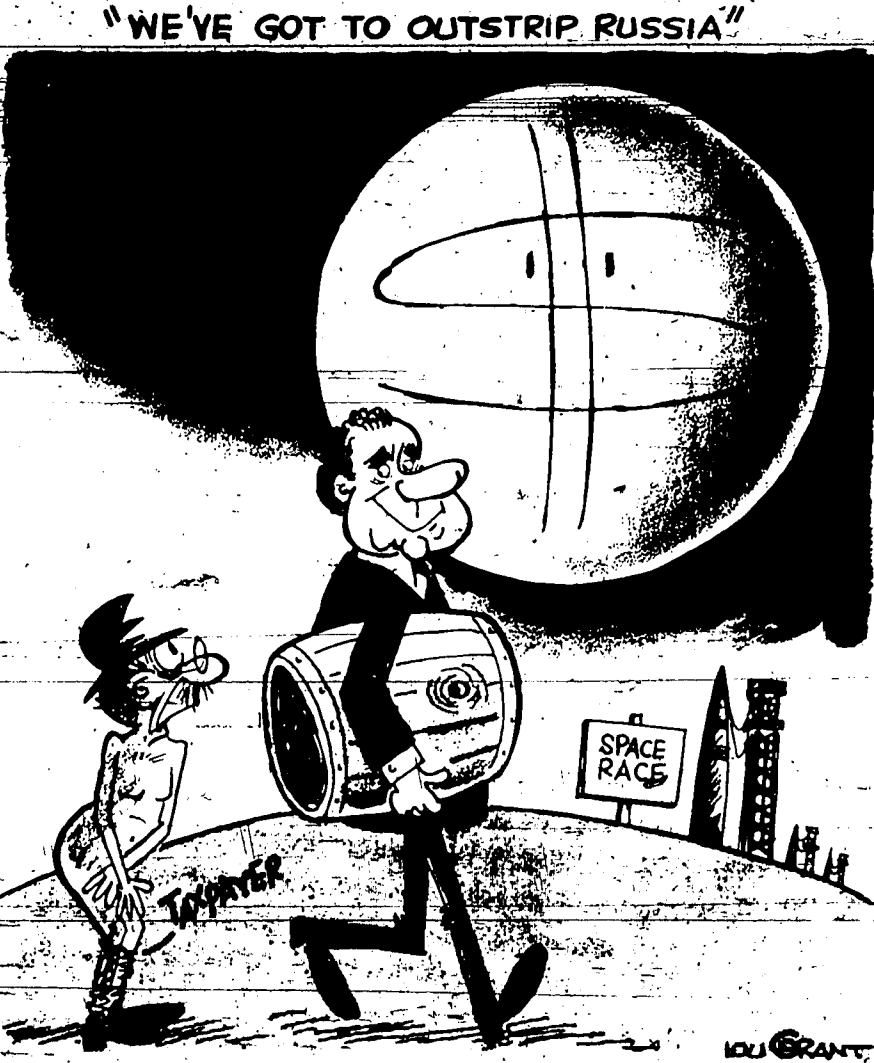

And you could sell warce bonds to finance it," I added.

"It would also solve the military problem. In a period of peace, the armed forces find themselves in disrepute. But if we were at warce, our men in uniform would still be respected and there would be plenty of opportunity for promotion."

Hegelstein said, "The world is not ready for peace and may never be. At the same time, war is not the answer to our problems. Therefore, we must condition ourselves to warce — whether they be warces of liberation, limited warces or even a World Warce. Vietnam may be the big test. If we can have a successful warce there, it will prove that it's possible to have a warce anywhere."

That's a good thought to leave with people at this time of year, Professor.

Thank you, Merry Christmas, and remember, warce on earth — good will to men.

GEORGE C. THOSTESON, M.D.

He Itches

Dear Dr. Thosteson: for 15 years my husband has not been able to take a bath without stinging as if he had a terrible rash. Only there is no rash on his body.

This stinging lasts for about 45 minutes every time his body gets moist, even from perspiration or any contact with water. It is worse from his neck down to his waist. — Mrs. M. B.

This is a strange and rather uncommon condition probably caused by a sort of allergic reaction of body cells to water. It appears to result from the release of certain substances from the cells, either histamine or what is called serotonin, which bring on the stinging or itching sensation. Often there is a rash associated with it.

If the released substance is histamine, then treatment with an antihistamine can be effective. Antihistamines, though, according to some studies, will not have an effect if the released substance is serotonin. However, other drugs — Peractin is one — can be effective.

The drugs are usually prescribed to be taken about an hour before a bath.

The drugs should not be attempted without consultation with a physician.

Sometimes such conditions respond to simpler treatments. For example, brief exposure to water a few minutes at a time every 15 or 20 minutes may create a tolerance so that the individual can take a bath in relative comfort.

I would normally suspect some substance, say his particular bath soap or maybe a deodorant, as a possible cause of his reaction. But, since you say this has been going on for 15 years, I suspect you have tried your own detective work along these lines.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: Everyone seems to have a different idea about the caffeine content of coffee, tea and cola drinks. Also, what about the decaffeinated coffees which claim to be 97 per cent caffeine free? Is this really significant reduction? — R. E.

A six-ounce cup of coffee runs about 18 milligrams of caffeine per ounce, or a bit over 100 milligrams per cup. (One milligram is 1-30,000 of an ounce.)

Tea, depending on how strongly it is brewed, runs 12 to 15 mg. per ounce, or somewhat below coffee. And cola drinks run 3 to 5 mg. per ounce.

Decaffeinated coffee does just what it claims to do — 2 to 3 mg. per cup, which is about 3 per cent of the caffeine in a regular cup of coffee.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: I have been told that bubble bath causes kidney infection and mostly in girls. Is this true? — H. E.

True only to the extent that it may not necessarily will cause irritation in the external genital area. That's not the same as a kidney infection, for which other causes are more likely.

Note to D.I. Injection treatment sometimes is effective if varicose veins are small when the condition is advanced as yours, the injection method just isn't practicable.

Newsman jailed 3 hours

WASHINGTON (UPI) — John F. Lawrence, the slight, bespectacled Washington bureau chief of the Los Angeles Times, was jailed for three hours Tuesday for refusing to give tapes of an interview to the U. S. District Court.

Lawrence was released on an appeal asking that the imprisonment order for contempt be lifted. Judge John J. Sirica, who ordered Lawrence held in the courthouse lockup, will hear the appeal today.

"My father was in this business 45 years before I was and I've been in it 17 years," said Lawrence after his release Tuesday. "I think what has happened... is something the American press has got to think about."

Sirica ordered Lawrence, 38, to the lockup when he refused to release the tapes subpoenaed by defense attorneys for two former White House aides and five other men charged with bugging and burglary of Democratic national headquarters last June.

The Times said the defense wanted the tapes solely for the purpose of impeaching the testimony of the key prosecution witness, Alfred G. Baldwin III, on grounds his interview Oct. 5 published in the newspaper was prejudicial to the defendants.

Citing a threat to freedom of the press, the American Society of Newspaper Editors and Sigma Delta Chi (SDX) honorary journalism fraternity prepared to file friend-of-the-court briefs today on behalf of Lawrence.

JOHN LAWRENCE

position that members of both organizations as individuals and as professional journalists have become increasingly alarmed at the attempts of unprecedented use of compulsory process to obtain information acquired by journalists in the course of their news gathering activities.

Sirica, who was appointed to the bench in the Eisenhower administration, granted the defense power to subpoena the Times' tapes after the Justice Department said it had no objection.

In a seven-hour hearing Tuesday, the Times urged Sirica to quash the subpoena, contending it was a "drastic inhibition of the press" that would cause news sources in the future to avoid interviews with newsmen for fear their conversations would be revealed by later court orders.

Sirica dismissed the Times' arguments and ordered the subpoena enforced. He called Lawrence before the bench and asked for the tapes. Lawrence said he had no authority from the newspaper to release the tapes, although they were in his possession.

Berrigan ends term

By GENE COSTELLO New City, N.Y., vintner, the DANBURY, Conn. (UPI) — The Rev. Philip Berrigan, 49, walks to freedom today after 52 months and 80 days as number 20173 in the federal prison system.

A reception was planned for the antiwar priest in a restaurant because Roman Catholic parishes canvassed in the area were unable to provide facilities, supporters said.

Berrigan's brother, Daniel, 51, who was released on conditional parole from Danbury federal prison Feb. 24, said he would be on hand for the welcoming ceremonies when his brother is released after 8 a.m. EST. Both priests had been convicted of destroying Selective Service records in Maryland.

The two were to participate in a liturgy, and an eucharistic service in which bread baked by supporters and wine from a pal priest, were to be distributed.

After the reception and a news conference, Philip, a member of the Josephites, an order ministering to minorities, and Daniel, a Jesuit, were to join their 88-year-old mother, Frieda Fromhart Berrigan.

The two brothers, leaders in the so-called Catholic resistance to the Indochina war, were in prison when the late FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover told a closed Senate subcommittee hearing Nov. 27, 1970 that they were ringleaders in a plot to blow up portions of a 16-mile heating system in Washington, D.C., and to kidnap presidential adviser Henry Kissinger.

Hoover's 27-page statement was released to the press. No charges were filed against the Berrigans at the time.

Hansen leads

BOISE (UPI) — The secretary of state's office has released figures that show that Rep. Orval Hansen, R-Idaho, did not ride into office on the coattails of President Nixon in the Second District — but led the President in total votes.

The total vote count in the Second District in the general election was 102,537 for Hansen who was re-elected to his third term, and 100,297 for Nixon.

Gem solon heads east

BOISE (UPI) — Newly elected Rep. Steve Symms, R-Idaho, was expected to leave today for Washington D. C., to prepare for the upcoming term of Congress.

Symms said he will drive east with his wife and four children. He expects to arrive in the capital Dec. 27. He said they will make their home near the capital city.

Navy aide asks pact revocation

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A procurement trouble-shooter for the Navy has urged that a contract with Litton Industries for construction of a general purpose amphibious assault ship be revoked unless the firm meets contract requirements by Feb. 28.

Gordon Rule, director of the procurement control and clearance section of the Navy Material Command, did not specify the requirements but said Litton had fallen behind on the project.

Rule testified Tuesday before a House-Senate Joint Economic Committee hearing on defense procurement.

Rule criticized the appointment of Roy Ash, former president of Litton, as director of the Office of Management and Budget.

7 arrested in escape plot, death

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — A prisoner's tale of his bloody escape and two months in hiding with Maoist revolutionaries led to the arrest of a fired Stanford professor and seven other suspects, the FBI said today.

Federal and state agents rounded up eight persons in the San Francisco Bay area and on the Navajo Reservation in Arizona Tuesday on the basis of statements given by convict Ronald W. Beaty.

Seven of them, including former English professor H. Bruce Franklin who was fired from the Stanford faculty earlier this year for fomenting campus violence, were charged with harboring a fugitive.

The eighth was accused of murder in the death of Chino State Prison guard Jesus Sanchez, who was gunned down Oct. 6 near San Bernardino in an ambush that freed Beaty. The convict was recaptured last week in a car on the San Francisco-Oakland Bay Bridge.

FBI agent John J. Reikes filed an affidavit with U.S. Magistrate Richard Goldsmith in San Francisco outlining the case against Franklin and the other six harboring suspects, most of whom were identified as members of the revolutionary Venceremos organization centered in the Stanford area 30 miles south of here.

Beaty advised me that the escape plan was devised by him with the help of members of the Venceremos organization," said Reikes, who questioned the escapee for two days last weekend.

The FBI agent said Beaty also told him that Franklin was the mastermind behind the escape plot, that was informed by other suspects that Franklin provided him with false identification papers and a car, and that he once talked by telephone with a man who identified himself as Franklin.

Franklin's lawyer, Charles R. Garry, dismissed the charges as a political effort to destroy Venceremos, saying the FBI has been following Franklin since Beaty's escape and should have been able to come up with more evidence than "the garbage in the affidavit."

Franklin, who was freed on $10,000 bail, termed Beaty's story "the self-serving statements of a person accused of murder" undoubtedly prompted by the offer of a deal from investigators.

'Edgy' passenger shoots 2 agents

NEW YORK (UPI) — A sky marshal and a customs agent were shot and wounded at Kennedy International Airport today by an "edgy" man as they attempted to search his briefcase.

Police said the assailant struck one of the security men and grabbed the officer's gun when the pair attempted to search his attaché case and guitar case at the Pan American World Airways terminal.

He fired about six shots at the two, shooting one in the leg and the other in the groin. He then ran from the building and onto a runway where he was taken into custody by two Port Authority policemen.

The wounded officers were taken to Peninsula General Hospital in Far Rockaway, where they were admitted to the emergency room. Their conditions were reported to be satisfactory.

They were identified as J. T. McCarthy, 41, a customs agent from Commack, N.Y., and Anthony Petrucci Jr., 34, a skymarshal of Bloomfield, N.J.

Police said McCarthy and Petrucci became suspicious when they observed the "edgy" man near Gate 7. When they approached and asked the man for his identification, he allegedly struck one of the officers, grabbed the officer's gun and started shooting.

He fired about six shots hitting both the skymarshal and the customs agent, police said.

Police said X-rays had determined that the contents of the attaché case were "suspicious." The police bomb squad was summoned to examine the contents.

Marcos lifts censorship rule

MANILA (UPI) — President Ferdinand E. Marcos today temporarily lifted censorship and other restrictions on newspapers and broadcasting stations in what the Philippine government said was an attempt to permit debate on the proposed constitution to be voted on in a nationwide plebiscite Jan. 15.

Martial law which Marcos declared Sept. 23 remains in effect.

Marcos issued orders to the Departments of Justice, Defense and Public Information suspending martial law restrictions on printed, broadcast and live public discussions on the constitution.

Information Secretary Francisco S. Tatad said such restrictions will be suspended only up to Jan. 15, the day of the plebiscite.

Tatad said the presidential order did not in any way mean actual suspension of martial law. He said the directives merely lifted censorship on publications, printing and circulation of all printed and propaganda materials about the constitution whether favorable or critical.

Tatad said public gatherings such as rallies and meetings whether for or against the constitution will be allowed but still subject to curfew regulations which are in effect from 12 midnight to 4 a.m.

Tatad said the primary reason for the presidential order was the "timidity" of some newspapers, radio and television stations and even private individuals to come out openly with their positions on the proposed constitution.

Schell writes history of early towns

TWIN FALLS — Frank Schell, collector and owner of one of the most complete merchants' token collections in Idaho, has undertaken a new project.

In attempting to determine the origin of some of his tokens, he found many of the state's cities have had one or two other names during their history and some 300 towns that once had post offices have vanished.

His latest project is a book about such early day towns and post offices complete with 18 plates showing their general location in Idaho. He is also collecting historical facts about the old post offices and as many old photos as he can of the early day communities.

At one time, he said, there were five or six towns between Twin Falls and Buhl, most of them with post offices. Faster transportation eliminated the need for the small trading centers and post offices and one by one they disappeared.

Schell, coordinator for the College of Southern Idaho Trade and Industrial Education, hopes to have his book ready for printing by the first of the year, said he is doing it because it represents a collection of reference material not presently available in Idaho.

"I probably will not sell enough to get rich," Schell commented, "but the material will be on record and available for persons wishing to know about the early towns of Idaho."

Schell said some towns have had many names. For example, Arco was once called by the unromantic name of Root Hog, and later became Junction because two state coach lines met there.

Twin Falls has always been Twin Falls, but Shoshone has had many names and Shoshone Falls has been called by other names. The Snake River was for many years the South Fork of the Lewis River and many early maps show it under that designation, Schell said.

There was a trend to change names of early day towns to make them sound more appealing to eastern land buyers and investors.

"Richfield sounds much better to a land buyer who has never seen the area than 'Alberta,' the original town name," Schell said.

Originally Richfield was named for the first white child born there but land developers didn't care for the name. Shoshone was once called

Wall Street Chatter

NEW YORK (UPI)—Investors have had much to be thankful for recently, according to Harris, Upham & Co., Inc. In just a year's time, the firm says, the market has advanced 27.7 per cent. Nixon was reelected, the 1,000 barrier of the Dow was cracked, and the dollar began to gain strength, among other positive indicators. On the bright side for the future, "statistically, the market has better underpinnings than it had in the other two years when it attempted to go through the thousand level," the company says.

After the stock market's meteoric rise in the past couple of months, things have cooled off somewhat in recent sessions, says Alexander Hamilton Institute, Inc. Normal profit taking together with the slow progress of the Vietnam peace negotiations have given pause to investors. Nevertheless, "with the tape flashing a bright green signal, there's more risk in being out of the market than in," the company says.

Since the market recently began its lateral action, the breadth readings have remained healthy, according to E. F. Hutton & Co., Inc. In six out of the past nine sessions, advances have led declines. During the lateral action of the Dow, the utility sector remained buoyant while the transportation sector has scored seven new recovery highs during the past nine sessions.

Towns change names

LOCATION OF early day Idaho towns, many of which no longer exist and some with only a few years history, are shown on Idaho map plates being made here by Frank Schell for his new book about early Idaho post offices. Schell hopes to have the resource material ready for printing by the first of the year.

Radical arrested

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — For the murder of Franklin, 30, a Maoist and an English professor, early this year became the first tented professor to be fired by Stanford in 70 years. He was discharged on charges of fomenting violence on campus. He was arrested along with Morton Newman, 30, Merlo Park, Calif., and Bruce W. Hobson, 23, Mountain View, Calif., on charges of harboring the guard's murder. Seabock was the fifth person to be arrested

POW family reaction mixed

BOISE (UPI) — The reaction today varied from families of Idaho POW's and MIA's in Southeast Asia to President Nixon's resumed bombing of North Vietnam.

Eleanor Bodahl, Boise, the mother of Air Force Maj. John Bodahl shot down three years ago and listed as missing, said, "To say the least, we are very disheartened with the new bombing, especially at this time of year, the Christmas season."

A two-month restriction on the bombing was listed Monday as President Nixon did not obtain what he thought was a just agreement to bring an end to the Vietnam War.

As chairman of the board of Idaho POW-MIA's Inc., and coordinator for the Idaho League of Families of POW-MIA's in Southeast Asia, Mrs. Bodahl said, "We generally supported President Nixon in his peace efforts. We thought he was doing all in his power. (But) now we are beginning to wonder just what is going on."

There are 10 prisoners of war and men missing in action in Southeast Asia from Idaho and one civilian missing, she said.

Another parent, Verl Chesley, Burley, father of Air Force Lt. Larry J. Chesley, shot down in 1966, said, "They should have knocked North Vietnam clear off the map years ago."

"In the many, many years there have been no peace negotiations. When they get ready for that, it will only take a few hours or a few days. Right now, it's all just propaganda," he said.

Chesley said although his son has been a POW since 1966, they have received only three letters from him, the latest one last March. As for his son's homecoming, he said, "We just don't build up any hopes anymore. Over the long haul, it doesn't pay to."

Arizona is the driest state, with Utah second.

Israel guards Holy Land pilgrims Christmas Day

TEL AVIV (UPI) — A military source said today Israel would take security precautions "as strong and as good as we are able" to guard Christian pilgrims against Arab guerrilla attacks in the Holy Land during the Christmas season.

The statement came as the Tourism Ministry predicted an estimated 20,000 visitors would be thronging to Bethlehem on Jordan's occupied West Bank for Christmas Eve and Day.

"I have no intention of frightening tourists or pilgrims," the military source said. "But it is clear that we have to take more precautions than usual" during the holiday season.

"Our precautions will be as strong and as good as we are able to do," he added. "If I were a Christian, I wouldn't be afraid to visit Bethlehem this year."

Since Israel captured the traditional birthplace of Christ in the 1967 Middle East War, the Christmases of 1967 and 1970 were marred by Arab guerrilla attacks, none of them causing casualties.

Past Christmas Eves have seen combat-equipped Israeli soldiers on the roofs overlooking Bethlehem's Manger Square and on patrols both inside and outside the city.

The source said he could not confirm newspaper reports that the alleged Syrian spy and sabotage ring recently uncovered in Israel had planned attacks against pilgrims in the Holy Land this season.

During the weekend, Israeli spokesmen announced the arrests of 12 guerrilla suspects on the West Bank north of Bethlehem. The announcement said they were responsible for a number of sabotage attempts.

SF court security fails

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — After passing through stringent security checks and metal detectors, a criminal case defendant walked into court Monday and pulled a revolver from his briefcase.

Albert L. Zero, 44, calmly put the gun on the defense table as bailiff Robert King rushed to his side.

The gun turned out to be a harmless replica of a .357 Magnum which Zero, who was facing trial for allegedly brandishing a gun, planned to use in his defense.

Repair begins here

Finished product

FINISHED PRODUCT of the CSI automobile body repair course is shown here by Virgil Leedy, Weiser, student who completed the project, and his instructor, Cliff Saunders. Another such course begins Jan. 10 for approximately 14 young men interested in careers in body shop work.

CSI sets auto body work course

TWIN FALLS — A new course in automobile body work will begin Jan. 10 at the College of Southern Idaho Vocational School.

Cliff Saunders, instructor, said the course will cover all phases of body repair and painting and will include about 14 boys in the program.

The present course which will conclude this semester, includes students from California, Colorado, Montana and all parts of Idaho.

The course continues for 11 months on a full six hour per day basis in the No. 2 vocational building on Eastland Drive. During the 1,300 hours the student learns the full schedule of repair from the wrecked vehicle to finished product including new matching paint.

Saunders said the school has one of the best equipped body shops in the area and students learn the use of all necessary equipment. When they complete the course, they are ready for work in body shops and while they are not journeymen, most are better trained and prepared than the average available body shop worker.

This is one of several CSI vocational courses available to train students in new or improved careers and to provide trained workers for area industries and businesses.

No women to priesthood

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A study committee of Roman Catholic bishops said Tuesday the question of ordination of women to the priesthood has been insufficiently researched and offered little hope the all-male priesthood would be changed in the near future.

The study said that neither scripture nor theology "alone can give a clear answer to this question." The ultimate answer, it said, must come from the church's teaching authority — the body of statements and teachings over time that make up Catholic doctrine and known as the Magisterium.

"The constant practice and tradition of the Catholic Church has excluded women from the episcopal and priestly office," the committee said. The study was prepared by the Bishop's Committee on Pastoral Research and Practices, chaired by Bishop John R. Quinn of the diocese of Oklahoma City and Tulsa.

While noting the strong arguments against ordination of the women, the study said "there is no explicit authoritative teaching concerning the ordination of women that settles the question."

It called for a thorough study because of developments in the church over the past 10 years, including the Papal statements saying the emancipation of women is a positive development of modern times and rejecting any discrimination based on sex.

In looking at the scriptural role of women, the study said it was difficult to draw any certain conclusions from the differing texts.

Citing the historic exclusion of women from the priesthood, however, the study said the constant tradition and practice, interpreted as of divine law, is of such a nature as to constitute a clear teaching of the Ordinary Magisterium (teaching authority) of the Church.

For this reason, it said, "a negative answer to the possible ordination of women is indicated.

Boy, 12, steers carrier

ABOARD USS TICONDEROGA (UPI) — Kevin Steen, who is only 12 and small for his size, was a proud "skipper" today when he took the helm of this giant aircraft carrier and steered her for a bit on her way to pick up the Apollo 17 crew.

"It wasn't too much different from driving a car," Kevin said. "You just turn the wheel, but not too much or you get off course."

Kevin, of Cave Creek, Ariz., has had nine operations for cancer and was told more than a year ago that he had only a few months to live. He keeps on going though and was a special guest of the Navy aboard the carrier for the astronaut pickup.

AF Dam must be rebuilt

AMERICAN FALLS (UPI) — The Bureau of Reclamation said in a report issued Tuesday that the American Falls Dam must be replaced to maintain safety and full capacity of the reservoir behind it.

The report was issued in Boise Tuesday as Gov. Cecil D. Andrus and Idaho's congressional delegation embarked on an on-site tour of the facility in southeastern Idaho.

The report said serious storage restrictions have been placed on the American Falls Reservoir because of "abnormal cracking and deterioration" of the dam.

"Further storage restrictions are in prospect as the deterioration continues," the report said.

In addition to Andrus, those traveling from Boise included Sen. Frank Church, D-Idaho; Rep. Orval Hansen, R-Idaho, and Rep.-elect Steve Symms, R-Idaho. Sen.-elect James A. McClure, R-Idaho, could not make the trip due to scheduling.

The report said during the 45 years since the dam was constructed, the concrete has gradually deteriorated due to chemical reaction between the aggregate and the alkalis in the cement used in the dam's concrete.

"Because of the concrete deterioration continuing, further storage restrictions appear to be inevitable until little or no water can be stored in the reservoir," the report concluded.

When the dam was constructed in 1927, it was designed to hold 1.7 million acre-feet of water, but now only about two-thirds of that amount is being stored in the reservoir here.

Because of the deterioration, Andrus made an on-site tour last month and called for congressional attention because of the dangers.

The cost of the replacement is estimated at $31 million for the additional cost of a four-lane highway across the dam.

About $2.3 million of that cost of the replacement would be repaid to the federal government on a long term loan basis.

US Court of Appeals to aid Supreme Court

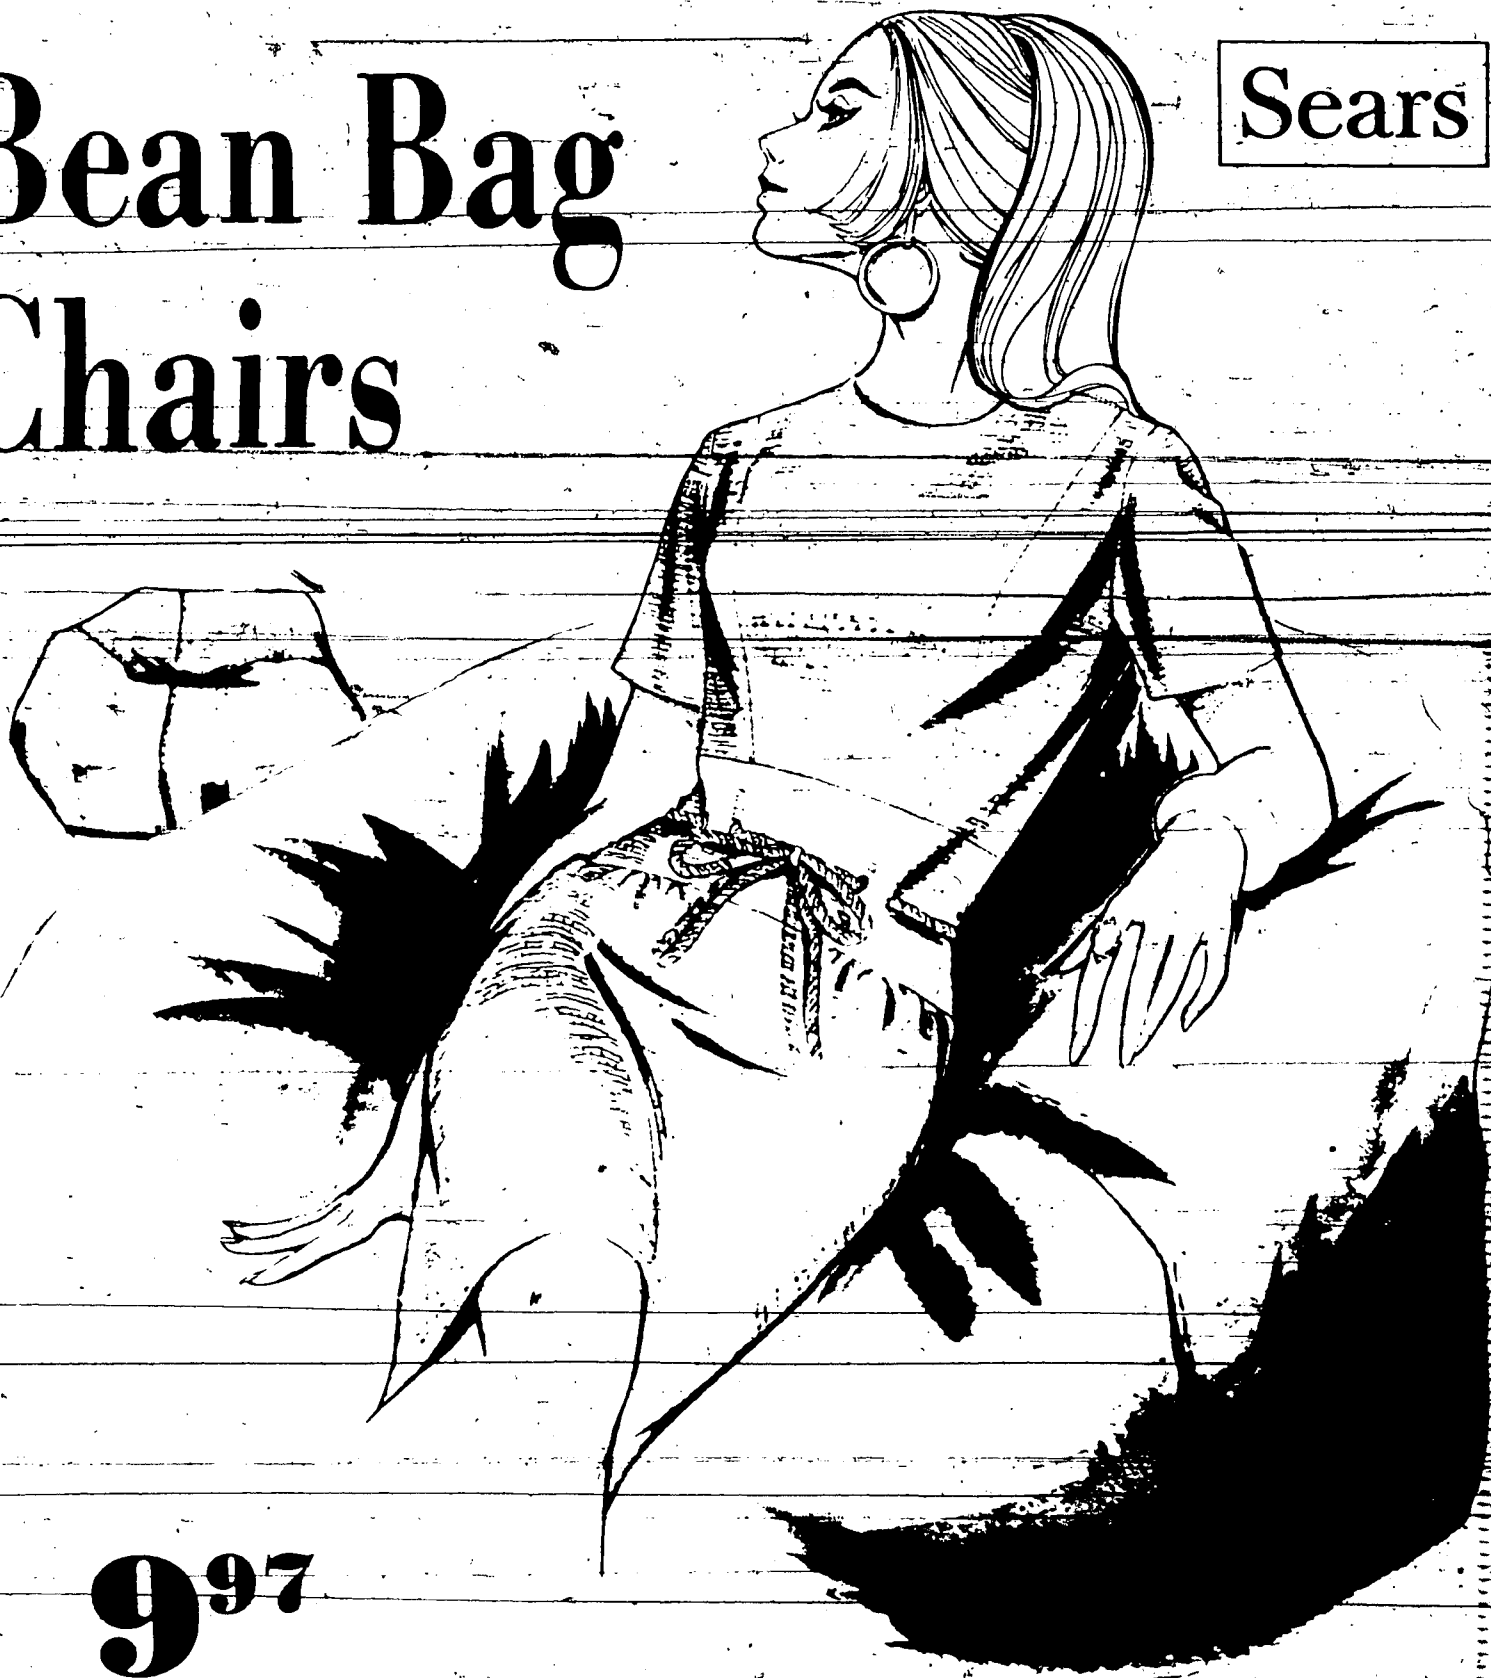

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A committee of scholars and lawyers recommended Tuesday creation of a seven-member National Court of Appeals to assume some of the burden of the Supreme Court.

News of the proposal had already filtered through the legal community and aroused opposition from former Chief Justice Earl Warren and former Justice Arthur J. Goldberg among others. Justice William O. Douglas also has indicated he is against the idea.

The committee, headed by Prof. Paul Freund of Harvard University Law School, made its formal report to the Federal Judicial Center, which is also sponsoring studies of the problems of lower courts. The new special court would screen the thousands of appeals filed each session — a chore now done by the nine justices.

The 48-page report noted requests for Supreme Court review increased threefold between 1951 and 1971. The largest increase was in cases initiated by persons unable to pay the cost of litigation.

Guard rescues Weiser horses

WEISER, Idaho (UPI) — Flood conditions remained the same in southwestern Idaho Tuesday where a few more families were evacuated because of overflow from the jammed Snake River.

Water dropped in the Crystal area between Payette, Idaho, and Weiser but Highway 95 between the two cities remained closed to traffic.

Officials said a channel was being cut in the Snake River with some flooding in Annex, Ore., across the river from Weiser as a result.

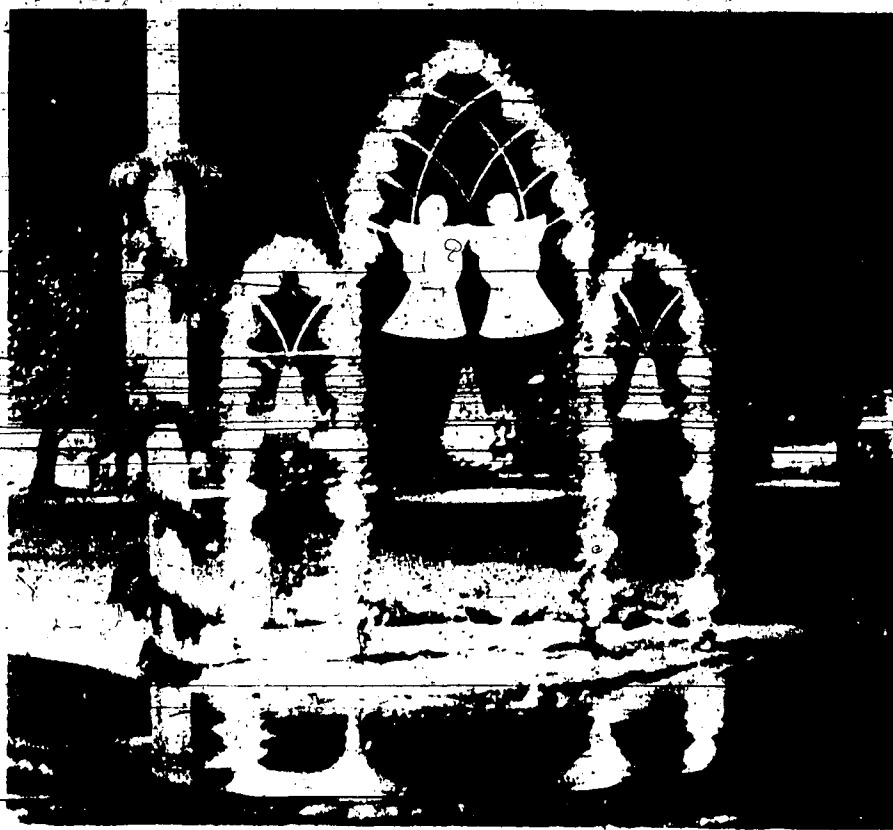

Horses owned by three Weiser men were airlifted from McCrea island northwest of Weiser.

The horses were airlifted out by air national guard helicopters to escape the rising water. Army air guard officials said this was the first time to their knowledge that a helicopter was used to airlift animals under flooding conditions.

The horses were tranquilized by a veterinarian, put into slings and lifted across the river.

In Malheur County, Ore., city manager Jack Collins said, "we still don't know what the river will do, and we're scared to death of any quick snow melt."

Some 45 families were evacuated from their homes along the river last week after ice jams caused flooding near Blackfoot but officials there said the situation was stabilized Tuesday.

10 Gem hospitals file suit

BOISE — Ten Idaho hospitals filed suit in Federal Court here today naming Idaho Social and Rehabilitative Services and its head, Dr. John Marks, as defendants.

The hospitals have a common denominator, that is the source of their complaint.

They all operate extended care units or "skilled nursing homes," in addition to their regular hospital sections and they all receive payments (the hospitals claim underpayment) from the SRS for care of financially needy patients in their nursing homes.

Boundary County Nursing Home, Bonners Ferry; Caribou Memorial Hospital and nursing home, Soda Springs, and Franklin County Hospital and Franklin Nursing Home, Preston.

The crux of the complaint charges the SRS with failure to pay a "reasonable" amount of the actual costs involved for caring for nursing home patients.

Larry Duff, a Rupert attorney hired by the plaintiffs, said the hospitals are presently paid $11.50 per day for the care of each of SRS nursing home patient, although the actual cost of the service runs as high as $20 per day in one hospital.

He cited Minidoka Memorial, with an average daily cost of $15 per patient, as an example.

Most of the plaintiffs consider "reasonable" allowance, he said. According to Duff, the hospitals are being financially penalized due to their optimum care for the patients.

The hospitals could possibly meet the $11.50 per day cost figure if they lowered their level of care in the nursing homes, he said.

Jerome plans rental housing

By CHARLOTTE BELL
Times-News writer

JEROME — Plans for an additional 20 to 22 rental housing units southwest of Jerome were outlined Tuesday night during the Jerome City Council meeting.

Andy Anderson, Boise, representing the developer, said the plan calls for low cost rental units which would be available at $100 to $115 per month. He said tentative approval has been given the project by the Federal Housing Authority but action is needed immediately by the council for final FHA approval.

He asked the city to act as soon as possible on the project and the annexation of a 10-acre tract of land where the buildings will be located.

The new development will be located adjacent to the Kerry subdivision, Anderson said.

A letter was also read from Safeway Corp. regarding their proposed new store to be located on West Main Street in Jerome.

The firm said at this time they are in the final process of purchasing the land in the 200 block. They plan to begin construction soon on the building which will include 20,180 square foot of floor space and house the modern grocery store facility, and a 3,872 square foot of floor space restaurant building.

City Council members approved a request from the firm to relocate the alley behind the proposed building. The firm requested it be moved 20 feet to the north to facilitate the location of the new buildings.

Declo men injured

BURLEY — Two Declo men were treated and released at Cassia Memorial Hospital Tuesday after they were involved in a two-car accident east of Burley.

According to a report filed by Cassia deputy sheriff Don Taylor, Wayne Turner, 20, and Pedro Alejandro, 19, both Declo, received treatment after their vehicle, driven by Turner, struck the rear of a car driven by Patrick Lee, 24, Burley.

The incident occurred at 2:15 a.m. about five miles east of Burley on Highway 30. The Turner vehicle was totally demolished and the Lee car sustained $800 damage.

The report states that Lee was headed east when Turner approached from the rear at a high rate of speed and collided with Lee. The impact knocked the Lee vehicle three-tenths mile down the highway, and the Turner car traveled 300 feet further before stopping.

Citations are pending, according to Taylor.

Jerome gets bomb threat

JEROME — A bomb hoax Tuesday afternoon caused early dismissal of junior high students.

Jerome Chief of Police Howard DuBois said the police department received a call at 1:40 p.m. Tuesday saying a bomb had been planted in the Jerome Junior High School building.

The bomb was said to go off at 3 p.m. and DuBois was told he had an hour and a half to vacate the school.

LaVere Gooch, junior high principal, also received a call, telling him of the bomb.

Gooch immediately cleared the building of students and after consulting with school board chairman Gordon

Hollifield, and the chief of police, decided the safest thing for the students was to dismiss them and send them home.

Normal school dismissal is at 3:35 p.m. The building was searched by the police department and school personnel but no bomb was found.

DuBois decided to keep the building vacant until after 3 p.m. in case the bomb was present but hadn't been found.

This is the second bomb scare the school district has had since the beginning of the school year. A phone call which appeared to be from a student earlier vacated the high school for over an hour. The earlier threat also was a hoax.

'Weapons' go aboard plane

LEWISTON — The Lewiston Morning Tribune reported Tuesday one of its reporters had "for all practical purposes" carried concealed weapons aboard a Hughes Airwest flight without detection.

In a bylined story by staff reporter Jay Shelledy, the newspaper reported that an unnamed reporter "carrying several pounds of carbonized steel material from which guns are made" boarded a Hughes Airwest flight in Lewiston without being stopped either by airlines personnel or by a mechanical metal detector.

According to the story, the airline said that the metal detector, a magnetometer, is fairly well ignored if the passenger does not have characteristics deemed similar to those of past hijackers.

An airlines spokesman, Jim Barrot, Lewiston, said the reporter was not stopped because he did not fit the secret hijacker profile that has been compiled for the industry, according to the newspaper story.

But the story reported that the reporter was asked for identification when he purchased his ticket, something it said occurred only to one in four passengers, and an indication that a "few of the profile characteristics were present."

Blaine project plans begin

By TERRY CAMPBELL
Times-News writer

HALLEY — Organization has begun for an environmental studies project in Blaine County.

Under the sponsorship of the Sun Valley Creative Arts Center, director and curator of the project is Kenneth W. Kinucan, Bellevue. Project aides include Mrs. Edith Kinucan, Tracey Trent and interested volunteers drawn from the community.

According to Kinucan, planned are a series of environmental courses, classroom visitations, field trips, teacher and youth leader training workshops and community programs with the ultimate goal "to create an understanding in the individual which will allow him to live in harmony with his environment."

Environmental awareness will be stressed during the sessions as well as the complex interrelationships found in the local biotic communities, Kinucan said.

With a "non-doomsday" approach to environmental education, the director said he hoped the "project would promote recognition and exploration of local environmental problems, motivating the citizens of Blaine County toward positive action in the solution of such problems."

The project is funded by a $9,000 grant — one of two grants issued in Idaho for the current fiscal year — under the federal Environmental Education Act. Under one phase of the project, approved by the Blaine County School Board, fourth graders at Carey, Bellevue and Ketchum will receive a series of classroom instructions incorporated into their science curriculum.

Environmental field trips to local biotic communities are also planned for spring and early fall in 1973, as part of an extension of a program conducted by the creative arts center last year for Ernest Hemingway Grade School students.

Teacher training workshops have begun to provide information which can be incorporated into regular curriculum and activities. The program is open to all interested teachers in county elementary and secondary schools, but will concentrate on the lower grades, Kinucan said.

Basis for the instruction is the Kinucans' new book "Wildlife Communities of Sun Valley," which describes local animals, vegetation and soils and their interrelationships.

At the request of teachers, in-class sessions will also be provided by project members. Similar to the teacher workshops, youth group leader training sessions will be open to 4-H Boy Scout and Girl Scout organizations.

Kinucan said, within limits of time and funding, environmental programs and field trips will also be presented for interested groups and individuals.

The director expressed the hope, with the expiration of the grant, that the project will be on-going through community interest and support.

The Kinucans have been area residents for one and one-half years.

Kinucan holds a master degree from California State University, Los Angeles, Calif., and has had training in conservation, natural history, biological sciences and ecology. For seven years, he served as a naturalist-preparator at McCurdy Nature Center, Pasadena, Calif.

Mrs. Kinucan attended Idaho State University and the University of Idaho, where she received a B.S. in zoology. She also did graduate work at Pennsylvania State University, University of Pittsburgh and California State University, where she received an M.A. in ecology.

Trent recently received a master's degree in wildlife ecology from the University of Wisconsin.

Whey turns up in many foods

By BERNARD BRENNER
UPI Farm Editor

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Dairy scientists are coming up with an ingenious new bundle of solutions to an increasingly serious problem — the disposal of whey.

Plants processing milk into cheese produce far more whey, a byproduct high in nutrients, than they can find markets for in animal feeds and other uses. As pollution-control regulations tightened in recent years, the cost of disposing of excess whey without fouling streams has become a major cost item for many plants.

But Dr. Joseph F. Mattick, dairy science professor at the University of Maryland, says a new parade of whey-based consumer products is now emerging from laboratories and may, eventually, provide a substantial market for whey.

Already, Mattick says, Maryland scientists have been able to produce whey-based jams, jellies, sweetened fruit-flavored drinks, cocktail mixers, ice creams and sherbets.

Currently, Mattick adds, researchers are at work on a whey wine.

The professor said he has been able to produce daiquiri and whiskey sour mixes by adding sugar and lemon and lime flavors to whey. The dry mixes are then combined with rum and water to make daiquiries, or whiskey and water to produce whiskey sours.

Mattick sees a larger potential, however, for whey-based fruit-flavored drinks.

"Most of the fruit drinks now on the market are nothing but sugar, water and flavoring. By using whey, you are substantially increasing the nutritional level of these drinks," Mattick said.

A consumer test of the drinks was made several weeks ago among young people gathered for a science careers conference at the University of Maryland, spokesman for the university's agricultural experiment station said. The conference delegates generally rated the whey drinks as "better tasting than commercially-produced fruit drinks."

Already, officials said, the states of Maryland and Pennsylvania have modified regulations to permit the use of acid whey solids — a byproduct of cottage cheese production — in ice cream products. Mattick predicted other eastern states will soon follow suit.

Oranges frozen

FRESNO (UPI) — Last week's freezing temperatures may have damaged 70 per cent of the oranges still on trees in Fresno County, according to a preliminary report.

"It's the worst I've ever seen," County Agricultural Commissioner Thomas Corn said Monday.

Temperatures dropped to as low as 20 degrees in some orchard areas with about 80 per cent of the county's orange crop still on the trees when the bad weather began Dec. 8.

Similar damage was expected in other central San Joaquin Valley citrus growing regions.

Plant protection seminar planned

TWIN FALLS — A University of Idaho Plant Protection Seminar is planned here Jan. 8-12. Robert Higgins, Twin Falls, University of Idaho extension agronomist arranging the seminar, said persons can register for and get complete details about the educational event at their local extension office, the number of participants will be limited to 120.

Higgins said the seminar will be held in the vocational building on the College of Southern Idaho campus. Orientation the first day is set for 8 a.m.

Information presented during the five-day seminar will be of interest to pesticide and fertilizer dealers, applicators and company fieldmen, county agricultural extension agents, county weed control superintendents, representatives of companies processing agricultural crops such as sugar beets, potatoes and seed; and others concerned with plant protection and pest management problems.

The seminar teaching staff will include extension and research specialists from the U of I College of Agriculture, regulatory personnel from the Idaho Department of Agriculture, the U.S. Department of Agriculture and the Environmental Protection Agency, and representatives from the agricultural chemicals industry.

They will present information on a wide variety of subjects including legal requirements for farm chemicals dealers and applicators, chemical properties of pesticides, diagnosis of problems, public relations, insurance and safety requirements, and weed, insect and disease identification.

Clergyman denies union inquiries

FRESNO (UPI) — A clergyman has denied that the Teamsters Union consulted him about its plans to intensify the recruiting of farm labor members in California, Arizona and Colorado.

Msgr. Roger M. Mahoney said Monday a union publication had incorrectly indicated the union talked with him and two other churchmen before announcing its plans.

There was a meeting among Teamster officials and the three clergymen but it did not concern the union's plans to renegotiate contracts with 170 growers, he said.

Father Mahoney, who has been a farm labor mediator, said he believed the organization of farm workers should take place through federally supervised representation elections.

The other clergymen at the meeting with teamster officials were Bishop Joseph Donnelly of Hartford, Conn., and Msgr. George Higgins of Washington, D. C. All have been active in farm labor disputes.

The teamsters' recruiting drive has been seen as an attempt to rival Cesar Chavez' AFL-CIO United Farm Workers Union.

Hansen pushes new road plan

AMERICAN FALLS (UPI) — U.S. Rep. Orval Hansen, R-Idaho, today called for immediate action by the state of Idaho to rebuild the road atop the American Falls Dam to minimize danger and inconvenience to the traveling public while a new dam is under construction.

Maintaining that "we cannot afford to wait while the structure is being replaced," Hansen urged state officials to explore various alternatives and come up with an interim solution to guarantee safe traffic flow.

The projected time table for complete replacement of the dam extends over a six-year period. A final interior department feasibility report on the new snake river facility is expected within a few weeks. The Second District Congressman conferred Tuesday with other members of the Idaho Congressional delegation, Gov. Cecil D. Andrus, and other state officials to determine the best course of action for replacing the deteriorating structure.

Hansen said he hoped special legislation can be drafted soon after Congress convenes in January to speed authorization of a new dam.

Provisions outlined for feed grain plans

TWIN FALLS — A preliminary explanation of the feed grain program is being given to Twin Falls growers with feed grain contracts by Boyd, chairman of the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service (ASCS) today.

"I want to go through their channels, I hope they find the explanation and put it aside for special attention," he said, explaining it is the first official word sent directly to growers on the major provision of the 1973 feed grain program.

Under the program, producers of corn, sorghum, and barley participating in the 1972 Feed Grain Program, earning payments totaling approximately $30,000.

Under the 1973 Feed Grain Program includes barley, corn, and sorghum, and producers may elect to participate in one or two options.

Option A requires an acreage set-aside equivalent to 30 per cent of a farm's feed grain base. Payment will be on an acreage equal to one-half of each feed grain base established for the farm. Per acre payment rates will be equal to the farm program yield times 35 cents for corn, 30 cents for grain sorghum, and 28 cents for barley.

A supplemental payment is payable on a five-month national average price plus the payment is less than 70 per cent of parity. Feed grain acreage on farms signed up in Option A will be limited only by set-aside and conserving base requirements.

Option B requires an acreage set-aside equivalent to 15 per cent of a farm's feed grain base.

Farmers electing to participate under this plan agree to limit their 1973 total feed grain acreage to the total acreage certified as planted for harvest in 1972 and also agree to forego supplemental payments. Payment will be on an acreage equal to one-half of each feed grain base established for the farm.

The per acre payment rates will be equal to the farm program yield times 24 cents for corn, 23 cents for grain sorghum, and 20 cents for barley. Under either option, substitution of wheat in excess of the allotment and soybeans planted for harvest as beans will be considered as feed grain for purposes of preserving feed grain base history for the farm, Boyd said.

Commodity loans will be available to all participants in the feed grain program on the farm's entire production. National average loan rates will be $1.08 per bushel for corn (No. 2, basis), $1.79 per hundredweight ($1.00 per bushel) for grain sorghums, and 86 cents per bushel for barley.

The same alternate crops as approved for 1972 may be grown on set-aside in 1973.

These are castor beans, crambe, guar, mustard seed, plantago ovate, safflower, sesame and sunflower.

The payment reduction if alternate crops are grown on set-aside land will be equal to 30 per cent of the average payment rate under Option A.

1972 said vintage year for Soviet, US relations

By PETER J. SHAW
MOSCOW (UPI) — The Soviet Union's foreign policy enjoyed a vintage year in 1972: the Nixon summit, a strategic arms limitation pact, falling barriers to Soviet-American trade, tacit acceptance of the Potsdam status quo in Europe, the beginnings of a European Security Conference, and improved links with West Germany and India.

The challenge in 1973 will be the sober task of maintaining what has been won.

Diplomatic betting at the moment is that the Kremlin will do all it can, short of compromising security and international stability, to make the international parleys a multilateral success.

Their reckoning is based on the economic drain of supplying nuclear arsenals for two potential fronts, Europe and China.

Virtually no one expects any change in 1973 in the Sino-Soviet stalemate on border talks and the ideological rift.

The border talks apparently are stalled over Soviet refusal to heed China's demand for at least a partial withdrawal of the 1 million Soviet troops Peking says are massed along the border.

Soviet offers of olive branches in the ideological split were ignored by the Chinese in 1972 and will be, one diplomat said, "as long as Mao Tse-tung is in charge."

The rosy euphoria that accompanied better Soviet-American projects for environmental and scientific research is expected in 1973. There will be a smaller, more selective number of projects because the volume of talks up to now has been wearing down the bureaucracies of both nations.

HEW No. 2 officer named

WASHINGTON (UPI) — John G. Veneman is leaving his post as undersecretary of Health, Education and Welfare and will be succeeded by Frank Carlucci, the White House announced Tuesday.

Veneman, No. 2 man at HEW since the beginning of the Nixon administration, plans to return to California. It was reported he likely will run for lieutenant governor.

Carlucci, former head of the Office of Economic Opportunity, is now deputy director of the Office of Management and Budget.

In another announcement by the White House for President Nixon's second term, Alexander P. Butterfield, a special assistant to the President, was named to head the Federal Aviation Administration. He will succeed John H. Shaffer, who has held the post since March, 1969 and plans to return to private life.

Butterfield, 46, is a former fighter pilot who retired from the Air Force as a colonel in order to join the Nixon White House staff.

Other personnel appointments: William J. Baroody Jr., an assistant to defense secretary Melvin R. Laird, will join the White House staff, taking over the responsibilities formerly held by Charles Colson for maintaining liaison with special groups. Colson's departure was announced earlier.

Frank C. Herring, a White House assistant, will become administrator of the urban Mass Transportation Administration, succeeding Carlos C. Villarreal whose departure was announced earlier.

Proposal made for volunteers

TWIN FALLS — The College of Southern Idaho Board of Trustees drafted a proposal Monday night to make CSI the sponsoring agency of a retired senior citizens' volunteer program.

Dr. James L. Taylor, CSI president, said the college will submit a proposal to the Idaho State Office of the Aging requesting funds to undertake the senior citizens' volunteer program.

If funding is approved by the state agency, Taylor said, CSI will hire a coordinator-director to contact area senior citizens who might want to volunteer their time to any particular public agency.

Lawmakers view AF Dam site

AMERICAN FALLS (UPI) — Idaho's congressional delegation said Tuesday it would get congress rolling toward appropriating money for a new dam in American Falls. The delegation, along with Gov. Cecil D. Andrus flew to the dam site for an on-site inspection of the deteriorating 45-year-old structure.

Sen. Frank Church, D-Idaho, said if "everything goes right" it may be as long as eight years before a new dam can be built. He appealed to the Idaho State Highway Board to approve expenditures to repair the highway which runs over the five-thousand foot long dam. The highway is being limited to one-way traffic because of deteriorating pillars which hold up the roadway. The highway handles 3,500 vehicles daily, many of them harvest trucks. The dam has visible marks of deterioration, including cracks leaking water. The dam was built in 1927 to hold 1.7 million of water, but because of reductions the reservoir now holds 1.2 million acre feet. Nearly 900,000 acres of land receive water from the reservoir through irrigation. Regional director of the bureau of reclamation E. F. Sullivan said it would cost $81 million to replace the dam including 1.5 million for a four lane highway across the structure. The new dam would be built about 100 yards downstream from the present facility. About two-thirds of the cost would be repaid to the federal government by water users through a long-term loan. Sullivan told a group in American Falls that the Interior Department had ruled out repairing the present structure because it would cost as much to build a new one.

They're back

TWIN FALLS — Chuck holes will soon be back in vogue on the streets of Twin Falls and other southern Idaho cities.

City Manager Jean Millar said the city spent most of last spring and summer "replacing" the chuck holes and now with the first major thaw after several weeks of sub-zero weather, they are beginning to reappear.

"We may as well get used to them as they will probably be with us until dry weather again permits a permanent repair," Millar said.

During winter months the major chuck holes will be filled with gravel to lessen the blow, he said, but no lasting repairs can be made until patching weather next spring.

CSI Eagles rap Pacific 54-47

STOCKTON, Calif. — College of Southern Idaho, its shooting and timing thrown off by a tight zone and patient offense, pulled away in the final five minutes Tuesday night to edge University of Pacific jayvees 54-47 Tuesday night.

The Eagles, who went without a point for over four minutes to open the second half, now go against University of Southern California jayvees Wednesday and windup the pre-Christmas schedule against the BYU frosh in Provo Saturday.

Rick Sobers picked up the Eagles with his second half scoring as CSI, ranked third in the last national junior college poll, was in a dog fight all the way.

There was seldom any real point deficit between the games. CSI holding a three-point advantage a couple of times, and UOP up by four once during the first half.

Ahead 24-22 at intermission, CSI fell behind 27-24 in the first 90 seconds of the second half but the UOP shooting went on the fritz, too. Finally, trailing 32-29, CSI took the lead on two straight long shots by Ron Fryson.

Randy Oliveras kept UOP in the game for a while until it went 37-37. Then Sobers hit three shots and Willie Williams added a couple of free throws against a UOP field goal and two foul shots.

Steve Swanson sneaked inside the zone for the first five-point CSI lead. With three minutes left, UOP forsook its zone and came out pressing. Sobers, Williams and Swanson hit enough from the foul line thereafter to keep CSI in front.

Grabbing a rebound

LOGAN'S Roskelly takes possession of the ball after a backboard fight with Minico's Scott Morehouse (43) and Alfrey (44). Spartan Craig Hepworth watches the action. Minico nipped Logan 57-54 to avenge a first-game loss.

Minico tips Logan 57-54

RUPERT — Junior Nyle Keller hit two clutch close-in buckets in the final two minutes Tuesday night to send the Minico Spartans to an avenging 57-54 victory over Logan, Utah.

The Spartans, who trailed as often as they led in this one, thus evened the score on their only loss of the season. But the SIC leaders had a battle against the smaller but perhaps quicker Utah crew. The key in the game may have come late in the second period when Perry sprained an ankle and was lost for the night. After that the Spartans held a definite edge on the backboards.

Lanky Craig Hepworth turned in another yeoman rebounding night and picked up 23 points. He hit six points in the fourth period as the Spartans twice overcame four-point deficits.

The game swung to Minico with 2:53 remaining when Hepworth hit a free throw for a tie. Seconds later Keller slipped in underneath for an easy bucket as Minico ripped Logan's press. He led it with 2:28 left with his second close-in shot. That gave the Spartans a 57-52 advantage and they wasted most of the clock thereafter.

Minico jumped into the lead 6-1 when Logan opened ice cold. But before the period ended, the Utah club managed a 12-10 lead. Logan pretty well controlled the second quarter although it couldn't pull away. Three times it went ahead by four points.

Parker, Walters ignite Jerome over Vikings

EDEN-HAZELTON — Logan Parker and Stan Walters ignited a blistering first half shooting display Tuesday night when the Jerome Tigers dropped the Valley Vikings 64-58.

Walters hit four jumpers in the 15-foot range in the opening minutes and Parker, who wound up with 23 points, added more on a fast break as the Tigers burst away to a 16-4 lead over the turnover-plagued Vikings.

But Valley steadied somewhat in the second period, although still trailing by 13 at intermission when Jerome showed a solid 60 per cent shooting mark.

Valley hit its best stride in the third period as Jerome cooled somewhat. The Vikings reduced the deficit to 47-43 and set up a good finish.

Jerome stayed four to six points ahead through the first six minutes of the final period with Valley then cutting to within three. Jerome immediately went to an ultra-patient offense against the pressing Vikings and picked up two close-in buckets to stop the rally.

Most of Valley's second half effort could be traced to better rebounding with Jerome's Steve O'Toole spearheading Tiger domination in the first two periods.

Jerome took the first game 53-43:

Grammer hits 40 as 'Skins top Bliss

GOODING — Mike Grammer broke the Gooding State single game point record Tuesday night as he tanked 40 points in leading the Redskins past Bliss 92-31 in a non-conference meeting.

Grammer scored 32 points in the first three quarters, then was benched, ostensibly for the rest of the night. But the Gooding State bench inveigled upon Coach Ed Bourn to let him go for the record — which he held at 38.

The young Bears never were able to threaten the Redskins who exploded a 19-8 first quarter lead to 46-13 by intermission.

Bliss won the first game 37-36.

Free throw lifts Shoshone past Wood River 53-52

SHOSHONE — Tim Murphy's free throw with three seconds left — giving Shoshone its only lead of the night — lifted the Indians past Wood River 53-52 in Big Sky Conference play Tuesday.

Murphy's free throw came after Mike Sorenson, who wound up with 24 points, had hit a three-point play with just under two minutes left. Wood River went into its delay-type cripple shooting offense but couldn't get the Indians to chase it. Shoshone sagged back into the middle and benefited when Wood River lost possession on a bad pass. Murphy's clincher came soon after.

Wood River leaped into a 14-5 lead in the first quarter with Shoshone chasing the rest of the night. The Indians closed to within three points at halftime but never quite caught up as the Wolverines stuck to their offense well. Wood River held three and four-point leads throughout the second half until

Warriors trip Celtics 115-112

OAKLAND (UPI)—The Golden State Warriors squandered a 15-point third-period lead, but staved off a furious Boston rally to post a 115-112 National Basketball Association victory Tuesday night, snapping the Celtics' nine-game win streak.

The loss dropped Boston's record to 26-4, still the best in the NBA. The victory boosted Golden State to 20-11.

Behind the torrid shooting of Nate Thurmond and reserve Joe Ellis and Charlie Johnson, the Warriors bolted to 74-59 advantage four minutes into the second half.

But Paul Silas scored eight points in a 23-8 Boston binge which earned an 82-82 tie and it was close the rest of the way.

Guard Jo Jo White, who led the Celtics with 30 points, hit a lay-up to give Boston its final lead, 108-106, with 3:22 remaining. One free throw by Jim Barnett and two more by Jeff Mullins then placed the Warriors ahead to stay with 2:41 remaining.

Bulldogs roll past Hansen Huskies 66-15

HANSEN — The Kimberly Bulldogs put three men in double scoring figures Tuesday night in rolling over the Hansen Huskies 66-45.

The victory avenged a loss to Hansen in last week's holiday tournament. Hansen helped the Kimberly cause by hitting only five of 33 field goal attempts in the first half.

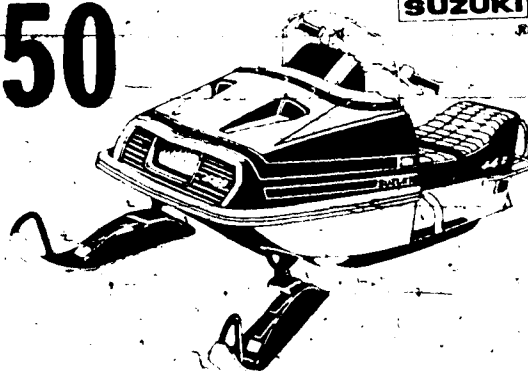

By that time the Bulldogs were floating comfortably on a 17-point bulge.

Dallas has no problems

By MIKE RABUN
UPI Sports Writer
DALLAS (UPI) — Back when that business about the Dallas Cowboys not being able to win the big one was a popular number, the subject had a very low priority on Tom Landry's discussion list.

Therefore it provided a sort of nostalgic note Tuesday when Landry said:

"This team doesn't have any problems. They don't have any hangups. They know what they can do."

The 1972 Dallas Cowboys have dutifully reached the playoffs, but have done so in a rather routine manner.

And coming off the inept showing against the New York Giants last Sunday the Cowboys' immediate future in the playoffs appears in question.

But just as Landry never bought any of that stuff about not being able to win the crucial contests, Landry is not buying the thought that his team is going to make only a one-day stand in this year's race to the Super Bowl.

"No, we don't have the momentum coming off the (New York) game," he said. "But you don't know what kind of momentum we might generate before Saturday."

"We have got a lot to fall back on to get the momentum going for us. We have played excellent football in the past."

The Cowboys have not displayed a massive quantity of excellent football this year, but there have been pleasant moments.

"We have played good in spurts this year," he said. "You never saw us perform better than we did in the first half of the Washington game (in which Dallas held on to win 34-24 two weekends ago)."

"What if you put two of those halves together. You might get it. I'm not a pessimist. I believe we will put it together."

The San Francisco Forty-Niners, who will entertain Dallas in the playoff's first round Saturday, have had a similar season to Dallas—very much up and down.

But during the early season period when San Francisco was losing, a lot of first line players were on the bench with injuries.

Now the Western Division champs have a lot going for them, not the least of which is the fact that they whipped Dallas 31-10 a month ago.

"They won a game they thought they were out of (last week's 20-17 comeback victory over Minnesota), and that is a credit to them," said Landry. "They won it when they thought it was gone and that has got to give them a lot of momentum."

John Brodie did very well for them and that is a plus for them.

"But the thing going for us is that we have beaten them twice (in the playoffs the last two years) and we are champions. They have got to beat us in the playoffs. That is what it is all about."

CSI rated No. 4

HUTCHINSON, Kan. (UPI) — Vincennes (Ind.), boasting a 10-1 record, is ranked No. 1 in the national junior college basketball poll for the second straight week.

Vincennes, however, garnered only four of the 19 first-place votes, one more than No. 2 Casper (Wyo.) and the same number as No. 3 Pensacola (Fla.).

The rest of the top 10: 4, College of Southern Idaho; 5, Dalton (Ga.); 6, Anderson (S.C.); 7, Crowder (Mo.); 8, Bacone (Okla.); 9, Ulster (N.Y.); 10, Gulf Coast (Fla.).

Honolulu could land ABA team

HONOLULU (UPI) — The possibility of Honolulu acquiring a professional basketball franchise arose Tuesday when Mayor Frank Fasi asked the chairman of the Honolulu City Council to work with a representative of the American Basketball Association.

Fasi, in a letter to Council Chairman George "Scotty" Koga, said members of his administration have been in frequent contact with ABA Commissioner Robert Carlson and representatives of several teams. Recently, Mike Storen, president of the Kentucky Colonels and representing the ABA, met with the mayor's staff here.

"I believe that Mr. Storen was favorably impressed with what he saw during his visit. Nevertheless, it was immediately apparent to him that our present HCC-Honolulu International Center facilities would be inadequate for professional basketball," the mayor said in his letter to Koga.

The arena, which seats 7,495 for basketball, has already been sold out for the season for University of Hawaii basketball games.

Fasi also said the administration is looking into the possibility of a new arena for Honolulu.

"While Mr. Storen is satisfied as to our intentions regarding a new arena, several other details remain to be discussed before Honolulu can expect to acquire a professional basketball franchise," Fasi said. These include rental agreements and other provisions regarding the present facilities.

"Since the new City Charter has delegated responsibility for these details to the City Council, I have asked Mr. Storen to contact you directly," the mayor told Koga.

The City Charter will go into effect Jan. 1 and it gives the council the responsibility of setting fees and establishing rental and other policies for city facilities, including the HCC arena.

James Loomis, director of information and complaints for the city, said he has recently been in touch with Storen and expected Storen to contact Koga within the next day or so.

Carlson, during a two-day meeting of the ABA Board of Trustees in Louisville, Ky., last week, said the trustees hope to expand the league, naming Los Angeles, Chicago, Jersey Meadows, N.J., and Honolulu as strong possibilities.

Austrian skiers back on top

MADONNADI CAMPAGLIO, Italy (UPI) — The Austrian ski team went home for Christmas today, bags full of trophies and hearts full of gladness.

The day of Austrian skiing dominance has come back, even without all-time great Karl Schranz.

David Zwilling, the old man at 22 in this "year of the coolies," leads the World Cup standings with 60 points after five races, and during the holidays people like Instant Italian superstar Piero Gros and his Swiss 20-year-old counterpart, Rolando Collombin will sit back and ponder the merits of experience.

Gros, the 18-year-old carpenter's son who became a national hero overnight after winning the opening cup race of the season, a giant slalom in Val d'Isere, by beating Olympic medalists galore, sent everyone scurrying about asking who is Piero Gros.

Then Rolando Collombin, a 20-year-old first year Swiss team member, came out of nowhere, to win the downhill in Val Gardena Saturday and lead the World Cup. The year of the rookie was on.

Packers leave for playoff training

GREEN BAY, Wis. (UPI) — The Green Bay Packers left for their playoff training camp at Winston-Salem, N.C., Tuesday after getting in one more "good workout" here.

"I'd really like to stay here in Green Bay," Coach Dan

Devine said. "But we can't take a chance on weather."

The latest weather report called for a 60 per cent chance of snow here—hardly the best conditions to prepare for Sunday's playoff game between the Packers and Redskins in Washington.

Devine said the Redskins game will take "at least the same effort it took against Detroit and Minnesota." The Packers whipped Detroit 33-7 and Minnesota 23-7 on successive weekends to win the National Football Conference Central Division title.

"There is an advantage to having played them once this season, but it may balance out if they feel the same way."

TF gyms to be open

Open play will be available for Twin Falls youngsters at two school gymnasiums during the holidays, reports Recreation Director Chad Browning.

The Robert Stuart and high school gymnasiums will be open from 9 a.m. to noon and 1 to 4 p.m., Friday and from 9 a.m. to noon Saturday this week. Next week, the 9-12 and 1-4 hours will be observed Tuesday through Friday with the morning session Saturday.

Me 'N Eds tops Royal

Me 'N Eds Pizza, getting half its points from Jim Bianchi and Dennis Almquist, topped Royal Lounge 62-53 Tuesday night in city league play.

Rich Nielsen hit 27 for Royal. In other action, the Twin Falls Fire Department, edged Rogers Brothers 24-23 and Koto's Cafe dropped Independent Meat 50-39.

Brown unanimous on NFC All-stars

NEW YORK (UPI) — Elusive Larry Brown, who was supposed to be too small and too hard of hearing to become a pro football star, was the only player to be selected unanimously Tuesday to the United Press International 1972 National Football Conference All-Star team.

Brown, the Washington Redskins' cornerback who led all conference rushers with 1,216 yards even though he was sidelined with injuries in the final two games, was the only player to be named on all 39 ballots by the panel of NFC football writers — three from each league city — who selected the team.

Brown joined John Brockington of Green Bay, who edged Ron Johnson of the New York Giants by a single vote, and quarterback Fran Tarkenton of the Minnesota Vikings in the NFC All-Star backfield.

The wide receivers are Gene Washington of San Francisco and Hal Jackson of Philadelphia and the tight end is Ted Kwalick of San Francisco. The offensive line includes center Forrest Blue of San Francisco, guards John Noland of Dallas and Tom Mack of Los Angeles and tackles Rayfield Wright of Dallas and Ron Yary of Minnesota.

The defensive unit includes ends Claude Humphrey of Atlanta and Jack Gregory of

New York, tackles Alan Page of Minnesota and Bob Lilly of Dallas, middle linebacker Dick Butkus of Chicago, linebackers Chris Hanburger of Washington and Dave Wilcox of San Francisco, cornerbacks Ken Ellis of Green Bay and Lem Barney of Detroit and safeties Bill Bradley of Philadelphia and Paul Krause of Minnesota.

Besides the Brockington-Johnson race, there were tight battles at wide receiver (Jackson beat out John Gilliam of Minnesota by two votes), center (Blue beat out Washington's Len Hauss by a vote), defensive end (Gregory beat out Carl Eller of Minnesota by two votes), defensive tackle (Page beat out Merlin Olsen of Minnesota by two votes) and cornerback (Barney beat out Jim Johnson of San Francisco by two votes).

Thirteen players, Washington, Yary, Mack, Blue, Brockington, Brown, Humphrey, Page, Lilly, Wilcox, Butkus, Bradley and Krause, repeated from last season's team. But Eller, who was a runaway choice last season, was bothered by injuries this year and just missed out. Page, who was the top vote-getter last season with 36 votes, also wasn't as effective this year and he barely managed to edge Olsen for a first team berth.

Minnesota, which had five players on the team last year,

Gophers trim SF State, Ron Behagen scores 13

MINNEAPOLIS (UPI) — Fifth-ranked Minnesota, scoring at will over much smaller San Francisco State, rolled to a 78-38 victory Tuesday night behind 20 points by Clyde Turner.

Minnesota, 5-0, never trailed and outscored the Golden Gators 18-1 in the final eight minutes of the first half to build a comfortable 38-18 halftime lead.

Coach Bill Musselman of the Gophers substituted early and often.

Jim Brewer, who left with 10 minutes to play, scored 16 points, and Ron Behagen, who sat out the final 12 minutes, finished with 13.

Seven-foot freshman center Tommy Barker, making his first start, also contributed 13 points for the Gophers, while San Francisco, now 1-5, failed to place a man in double figures.

Bucks overwhelm Sonics

MILWAUKEE (UPI) — Kareem Abdul-Jabbar scored 33 points Tuesday night to lead the Milwaukee Bucks to an overwhelming 121-57 victory over the hapless Seattle SuperSonics.

The Bucks roared to an early 22-7 lead, and the Sonics were never in the game.

Seattle scored only 15 points in the first quarter and 14 in the second as the Bucks built a huge 61-29 halftime bulge. The 29 points was Seattle's all-time low for one half and the Sonics' final total was also a club record low for a game.

John Brisker led Seattle with 15 points.

Hawks hold off Kings

ATLANTA (UPI) — The Atlanta Hawks held off a third-quarter bid by the Kansas City-Omaha Kings Tuesday night to take a 119-102 victory.

The Kings cut into a 12-point Atlanta halftime lead as Sam

Lacey and Nate Williams each scored 12 points in the third quarter. But Atlanta, leading 93-88 with 10:30 to play, went on a 14-2 scoring binge to put the game away.

Simpson paces Rockets

DENVER (UPI) — Ralph Simpson paced the Denver Rockets' second-quarter 40-point effort to easily defeat Dallas, 137-115, Tuesday night in American Basketball Association action.

Simpson scored a total of 35 points.

had four players on the first team this year — Yary, Tarkenton, Page and Krause — even though Eller didn't make it.

Brown played in only 12 games, but had a sensational year. In a season in which the running backs were in the spotlight, he was the best. He carried 85 times for 1,216 yards for a 4.3 average and eight touchdowns although the opposing defenses were keying on him most of the season.

Brown, who's only 5-11 and 195 pounds and usually takes quite a pounding while carrying time after time in the Redskin attack, was supposed to be too small when he came to the Redskins after being a blocking back at Kansas State. He also was supposed to be slow off the ball but it turned out that he had a hearing problem and Vince Lombardi, who was the Redskin coach in 1969, installed a hearing aid in his helmet to solve that handicap.

His heroics this season including a 191-yard game against the New York Giants, who were determined to hold him to under 100 yards in their second meeting. But Brown still gained 106 yards in that rematch.

Brockington, who combined with MacArthur Lane to fuel the running attack that brought the Pack back this season, became the first player ever to gain a thousand yards in his first two seasons in the pro ranks.

Tarkenton, who had a disappointing season because he didn't lead the Vikings to the playoffs, still had a fine individual season despite the lack of a running attack and some holes in the defense.

The second team offense consisted of Gilliam and Charley Taylor of Washington at wide receivers, Bob Tucker of New York at tight end, Bill Kitner of Washington at quarterback, Johnson and Dave Hampton of Atlanta at running backs, Len Hauss of Washington at center, John Wilbur of Washington and Woody Peoples of San Francisco at the guards and Rocky Freitas of Detroit and George Kunz of Atlanta at tackles.

The second team defense includes Eller and John Zook of Atlanta at ends, Olsen and Bob Brown of Green Bay at tackles, Jim Carter of Green Bay at middle linebacker, Fred Carr of Green Bay and Isiah Robertson of Los Angeles at linebackers,

Jacksonville drops Oral Roberts

UNIONDALE, N.Y. (UPI) — Leon Benbow scored 24 points and had flashy Riche Fuqua to only 10 points Tuesday night while leading Jacksonville to a 92-89 victory over Oral Roberts for a berth opposite Long Beach State in the finals of the first annual Nassau Classic.

Sixth-ranked Long Beach State, paced by the awesome defensive play of 6-11 Nate Stephens and the all-around performance of Ed Ratleff, clattered Hofstra 95-44 in the first half of the doubleheader at the Nassau Coliseum.

Jacksonville, boosting its record to 5-1, led by 18 points with 14 minutes left in the game but had to scramble for the victory as Oral Roberts rallied to within one point, 90-89, with 1:10 remaining. A basket by Jimmy Clark with 52 seconds left gave Jacksonville a three-point margin and Oral Roberts' last chance slipped away when Fuqua was called for traveling with 35 seconds left.

Fuqua, the nation's second leading scorer last year who entered the game with an 18.5 average, did not score a point in the first half but played an instrumental role in rallying the Titans in the second half. Three

TF man teaches program

TWIN FALLS — Frank Schell, coordinator of trade and industrial education at the College of Southern Idaho, has been teaching people to teach. He has completed a one-week training program in Boise for Idaho Department of Highways personnel from 10 districts of the state.

Schell said the highway personnel are well qualified in their fields but have difficulty teaching new employees the job steps. Under new department of highways regulations, workers cannot move up to higher job qualifications and salaries without passing certain exams about job functions.

In order to advance, they must receive training from more experienced staff members.

Schell said each of the department representatives was required to conduct a class session at the end of his week's program.

Kissing custom

NEW YORK (UPI) — Kissing under the mistletoe at Christmas is a custom that goes back over 2,000 years, according to Flora Mears of Hallmark Cards, an authority on seasonal traditions.

The Druids in Britain considered the mistletoe a sacred plant, says Miss Mears. "Anyone standing under it was given divine protection." But because criminals often used it to avoid arrest, the custom was abolished in Queen Elizabeth I's reign. The tradition of forfeiting a kiss while standing under the mistletoe bough has been eagerly preserved over the years.

A thought for the day: Irish novelist George Moore said, "The wrong way always seems the more reasonable."

A Lovelier You

HAVE YOUR PICTURE TAKEN?

By Mary Sue Miller

The holiday shutterbugs begin to swarm. Do you dread it? You just never take a good picture?

Well, be comforted. Cameras for the amateur photographer have good pictures built in. The subject is not quite as reliable. She must know how to present her best self to the camera. Learning to pose is really easy.

Where your figure's concerned, the main thing to remember is to turn the hips and knees at a slight angle — slightly away, very slightly — to the lens. Do square your shoulders and pull up in the waist. Keep your feet close together and relegate your hands to an inconspicuous position.

All those little gambits are slimming and grace-making. What about your face? The unbreakable rule insists on tidy hair and tidy lipline. Most every face looks prettier to the camera's eye when the head turns and tilts a fraction away from it.

When the nose is overlong, simply tip the head back and it will appear shorter. A button nose takes on length when the head tips down a bit. To reduce a broad nose, pose the head in profile.

The eyes look larger and brighter if you blink just before the session starts. At the same moment, wet the lips to relax the mouth — the better to smile.

A little practice and you'll never feel camera shy again. What's most important, you will relax and enjoy the clicking cameras. And look it in the snaps.

HIP REDUCING ROUTINES

You can diet until you become feather-light and still be hip-heavy. Reduction in the hipline is assured only by exercise. For a set of quick and effective ones, send for my leaflet, HIP REDUCING ROUTINES. Write Mary Sue Miller in care of this newspaper, enclosing a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope and ten cents in coin.

Abby

Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: Yesterday morning a brush salesman rang my bell and I invited him in because I wanted to see his catalog. (I have done business with this company for years, and they always gave me excellent service.) During dinner, my husband asked me what my day was like and when I told him that I had invited this brush salesman into the house, he hit the roof, yelling and shouting that I was "no good" and had no right to have "other men" in our home while he was at work. He asked me how many other men I had let into the house and he went on and on like a madman. He even swore at me and called me terrible names.

Jealous husband

I was so nervous and upset, I slept on the couch last night. My husband was angry and kept coming out, trying to get me to come to bed and have sex with him, but I was so upset, I just wanted to be left alone. Then he accused me of having sex with this brush salesman, and after that I just couldn't bring myself to give in to him.

Abby, I am a good, clean woman. I love the Lord and read my Bible every day. I pray and ask God's help in all I do, but I do not feel that God wants me to live this way. My husband is so jealous he has forbidden me to visit with my neighbors, and he wants no company in our home. I am 34 and he is 49 and we've been married for 10 years. We have no children because he has wanted none. What shall I do?

TORMENTED IN ALBUQUERQUE

DEAR TORMENTED: Your husband is a sick man. No rational man behaves this way. Insist that he see a doctor. If he refuses, go to your pastor and tell him your story. There is no reason for you to tolerate such abuse.

DEAR ABBY: I have lived with my daughter and her husband and their children for more than 20 years. (I am a widow.) Whenever they are invited to a dinner given by her in-laws, and my name is not mentioned in the conversation over the phone, I do not go. These in-laws insist that I am part of the family, and I don't require a special invitation, but I feel it's too much effort for them to say, "Bring Sarah." I am really not wanted.

A neighbor sent a graduation invitation to my daughter and her husband, addressed "Mr. and Mrs. _____ and Family." I didn't go. My daughter insisted that the "and family" included me. I say it meant her children, as my name is entirely different from theirs, and if it was too much trouble to write my name on the envelope below my daughter's, I stay home.

Do you think I am right or not?

HAVE FEELINGS, TOO

DEAR HAVE: I think you are right. Merely sharing a home with your daughter does not automatically include you in her invitations. I hope you are doing all you can to develop a social life of your own. You will be much happier, and so will your daughter and son in law.

DEAR ABBY: I am a piano teacher, and would like to know what I should say when people ask me how many pupils I have. It's a business with me, and I feel it is nobody's business but my own how many pupils I have. I don't want to seem rude, yet we teachers never ask that of each other. Thank you.

PIANO TEACHER

DEAR TEACHER: Simply smile and say, "Oh, that's classified information." [You can get away with almost anything if you're pleasant and good-humored about it.]

DEAR ABBY: I am a bald bachelor who is considering having a hair transplant because I think it will make me more appealing to women. Several of my male friends have told me that baldness is now considered a sign of virility and the baldheaded men get all the girls.

What is your understanding on this subject? M. K. A.

DEAR M. K. A.: The hairier the man, the more virile he appears, but hair has absolutely nothing to do with a man's sexual performance. There are plenty of men who have a head full of hair—and all they get is dandruff.

Problems? Trust Abby. For a personal reply, write to ABBY, BOX 69700, L. A., CALIF. 90069 and enclose a stamped, addressed envelope.

West was a pretty good player and eventually West decided that South did not have a second spade stopper, but did hold both red aces and the king-queen of clubs and was trying to steal a club trick before running off seven tricks in the red suits.

West hopped up with his ace and down crashed East's king. All of a sudden South not only was going to make his contract but he actually came up with two overtricks.

West led the nine of spades and East ducked again. South took his queen, led the seven of clubs and let it ride after West played low.

After this he wound up with six diamonds, three clubs and two spades for one of the best results of 1972.

Instead of bidding one spade, your partner has jumped to three hearts. What do you do now?

Sewer plans postponed

TWIN FALLS — Action on a plan for including the city of Kimberly in the Twin Falls City sewer system was delayed again Monday night.

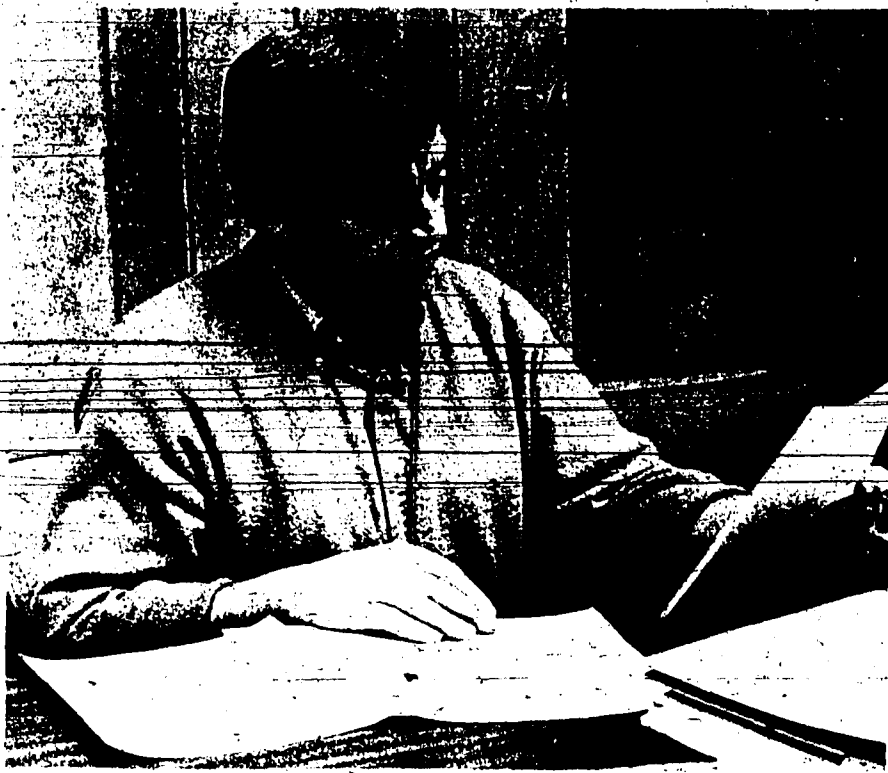

Under consideration for some time, the proposal was discussed at length in a City Council work session Monday afternoon.

Mayor John Christoffersen said he appointed Michael Gray, Dr. Stephen Lincoln and Paul Ostyn to negotiate further with the city of Kimberly.

"We do not want to act hastily on an agreement we will be living with for years to come. Financial details are yet to be worked out and while we want them to be fair to the city of Kimberly we also want residents there to be paying their share of the sewer costs," he said.

Twin Falls is in the process of revising the city's sewage treatment facilities north of town in Snake River Canyon, from a primary to a secondary treatment which will include serving Idaho Frozen Foods, the city's major processing industry.

Including Kimberly in the same treatment program must be decided before final plans are complete, city officials said.

New trustee

NEW MEMBER of the Minidoka County school board, Roger Brown, Heyburn, will serve until the regular election next spring. He was appointed to fill the vacancy left by Leo Moore who moved to another trustee zone and resigned as the Heyburn area trustee.

Gooding council hears health plan

GOODING — City Council members learned Monday night that a mental health satellite office will be located in Gooding.

A letter from South Central Mental Health Department director, Don Barlow, informed officials that a federal grant request for a comprehensive plan of mental health services and needs in Magic Valley has been submitted.

The plan would include a main office, now located in Twin Falls, and the satellite office to be used for out patients.

Mental health officials toured the Idaho State Tuberculosis and Hospital in October to study the feasibility of using an office in that facility.

Council members approved a trailer court license to A. G. Long. Officials requested that residents should not try to thaw water meters themselves, but should call the city offices.

Lanting predicts special session

TWIN FALLS — House Speaker William Lanting, R-Hollister, predicted Monday night a special legislative session would be convened in 1974 to effect government reorganization.

Lanting told a group of Republicans at a Twin Falls central committee meeting Monday night he thought a bipartisan committee would be created during the upcoming session of the legislature to study the mandate to reorganize state government into 20 agencies or less.

The committee, Lanting said, would meet periodically during the 1973 and 1974 sessions as well as in the intervening months prior to the convening of a special session following the regular 1974 session.

Idaho's last special legislative session came in 1971, when the voting districts in the state were redistricted.

The effort to revise state government was given approval at the polls in November, when SJR 132 passed by a vote of over 50,000.

European edition

NEW YORK (UPI) — Ralph Davidson, publisher of Time magazine, today announced that a European edition of Time will be launched early next year.

The new edition, Davidson said, will contain several European editorial pages in addition to regular contents of the weekly news magazine.

Nation's highway death toll highest since '69

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The nation's highway death toll is expected to hit 57,000 in 1972, the highest since 1969, government officials said Tuesday.

Transportation Secretary John A. Volpe admitted "that despite strong efforts on our part, the highway death toll for the first 10 months of 1972 is running ahead of last year."

Volpe did not give any specific prediction on the highway death tally. But officials of the National Highway Traffic Safety Administration said by the end of the year the death count would reach 57,000.

In 1971, the death toll was 54,700; in 1970 it was 54,800.

Woman hurt at Gooding

GOODING — An automobile accident four miles east of Gooding on the old Shoshone highway injured Mrs. Albert Bush, 43, Gooding, Monday afternoon.

She was a passenger in a car driven by her husband who pulled to the right to allow a car and a truck to pass, then braked and skidded off the road on the left hand side while avoiding a hump of snow and ice.

Sheriff's officers estimated $500 damage to the automobile. Mrs. Bush was taken by ambulance to Gooding County Memorial Hospital where she is listed in satisfactory condition this morning.

What's What

L. M. Boyd

A spokesman for the Corset and Brassiere Association has predicted the average woman's hip measurement within 30 years will run around 40 inches, the average bust measurement around 38 inches.

A TEACHER of teachers says the usual 9-year-old boy is just 18 months behind the typical 9-year-old girl in educational development.

ABOUT TO BE sprung on the market is a new camera so sensitive it takes distinct photos in a room illuminated by nothing more than the glow of a lighted cigar.

EXACTLY 60 YEARS AGO: The average lawyer earned $1,000 a year. A store clerk, $400. A clergyman, $600. A college professor, $1,200.

REPEATEDLY IT HAS been proved that peacocks don't lay eggs. Still, I continue to get mail from kindly clients who claim otherwise. Amazing.

WORST OUTLAW

Most murderous outlaw of the old wild west was a man whose name few know. Henry Plummer. When only a youngster in California, he nonchalantly murdered his girlfriend's husband, then zip, collapsed with what the medics diagnosed as tuberculosis, so was granted a pardon. Up he jumped to seduce, rob and kill again.

California lawmen chased him north. He romped around the State of Washington for awhile after sending back to California newspapers to report he was lynched by a mob. But the coast got too hot for him, too, so he ran to Montana, where, incredibly, he got himself elected as a county sheriff.

Thereabouts, a band of marauders ambushed a total of 102 Montanans. Sheriff Plummer was helpless to solve those crimes, poor fellow. Vigilantes set out. Sure enough, they caught him, the gang leader, Plummer, and all his men. In 1864, they strung him up on his own gallows. The end.

NO GRAY HAIR

Q "Louie, do you have any gray hair yet?"
A Not a one. Am getting gray eyebrows though. Curious. It's a fact, you know, you don't necessarily inherit the color of your eyebrows from the same ancestor who gave you the color of your hair.

Q "DO pigs sweat?"
A Only on the snout.

THE SCIENCE BOYS figure a youngster will eat its own weight in food once every 10 days. A grownup, once every 50 days. A Seasoned Citizen past retirement age, once every 65 days.

Horoscope

Carroll Righter

FORECAST FOR THURSDAY, DECEMBER 21, 1972

GENERAL TENDENCIES: You are apt to be overemotional today and tonight and to make some definite mistakes if you allow this to affect your mature and deliberate judgment. So take the time to think your objectively and impersonally the answers to whatever is important to you and put your emotions aside till a better time for them.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) Problems at home need careful handling, not arguments and recriminations. Use your head and all can be solved satisfactorily. Some outside personal problem should also be solved quickly, wisely.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) Shop with care for the items you need and keep purse or wallet zipped. A kind word will calm wrath, so do not lose temper with others. Avoid one who has strange ideas and could get you mixed up.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Important to handle financial and real estate matters most carefully today when you are not feeling quite up to par. Listen to what an expert in finances has to suggest. Follow best suggestions made.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) Forget self when dealing with other persons and you get better results with them and do away with self-consciousness that is detrimental to your advancement. Take the health treatments you need early. Tone down on temper.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) Use more constructive methods than fussing and fretting about what you can do little about, and then you can do much that is progressive. Sulking at home alone is defeatism. Get out in the world of activity and strut your stuff — make big headway.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) You have social plans that should be carried through in most effective way. Know what it is you want to accomplish and act in a positive manner. Forget all that vacillating from one thing to another.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) Carrying through with promises made to a bigwig is important now, or you could lose ground where your public image is concerned. Get vital bills paid. Some civic work you have to do must not be neglected either.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Try not to force others to go along with your own ideas or you could alienate good friends. State your views calmly and permit them to use their own free will. Get that special talent you have to work and advance.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Important to handle obligations well instead of going off on some tangent or other today, otherwise you could regret it tomorrow. Meet the expectations of an attachment. Don't disappoint this person.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Show associates that you are most precise in handling your end of affairs, since they are in a questioning mood. You, too, should ask questions if you are in doubt and relieve your mind. Avoid one who has an eye on your assets.

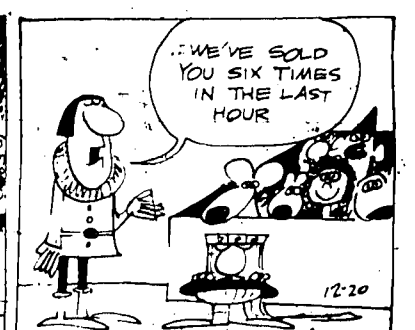

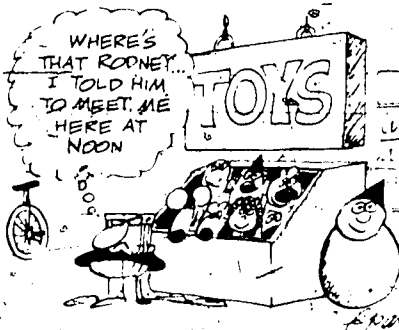

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Important to make preparations now for the coming week so you are ahead of the game. Ask questions concerning anything you are not sure of. Plan time for improving your charm and health, also.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) Learn to smile more no matter how you feel or what worries you may have, and this helps you win out. Give attention promptly to creative work you have to do. A wise person can give good advice.

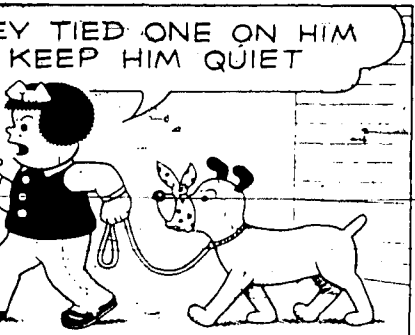

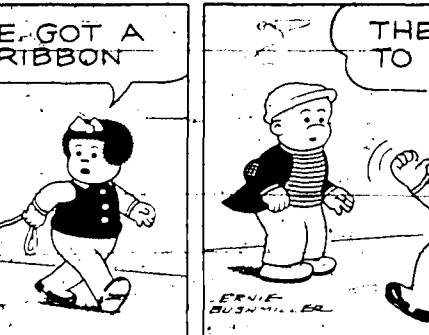

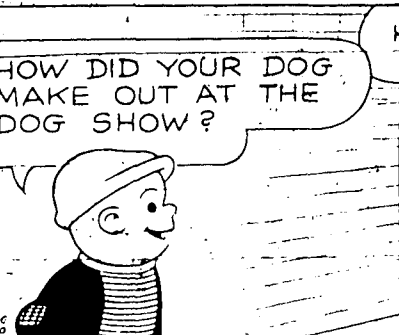

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY he or she will be one of those most sensitive young people who will definitely have artistic talents and should have these brought out early in life since the greatest success can come through such self-expression. There is also much ability at whatever is of a business nature, since there is an instinctive knowledge of what the public needs and desires. Send to the college of own choice for best results. Sports are secondary here.

"The Stars Impel, they do not compel." What you make of your life is largely up to YOU!

RAY MICKELSON ... appointed
RICHARD MICKELSON ... gets degree

Ex-area man named to post

TWIN FALLS — Ray Mickelson, Boise, has been appointed southwest Idaho regional director for the Idaho Planning and Community Affairs Agency.

He is the son of Leo Mickelson, Twin Falls, and attended schools in Jerome. He is a graduate of Boise State College and the University of Idaho.

In his new position he will cover state planning in the third region including the counties of Adams, Valley, Washington, Payette, Gem, Boise, Canyon, Ada, Elmore and Owyhee.

He also covers region 4, including the Magic Valley counties of Twin Falls, Cassia, Minidoka, Jerome, Lincoln, Gooding, Camas and Blaine.

Mickelson will be working with cities and counties and local level planning agencies on comprehensive planning in specific areas which will be coordinated with the state-wide plan.

He has served in planning positions for more than 10 years. His previous positions included Ada County senior planner, Boise city planning director, Ada Council of Governments planning administrator and principal planner with the firm of Barton Stoddard, Milhollin and Higgins, Boise.

"During his work as Boise City planning director, Mickelson was instrumental in developing the neighborhood analysis program, capital improvement program, annexation policy and workable program for community development.

A brother, Richard Mickelson, also Boise, has worked for several years with the Idaho Department of Highways as a surveyor. He has recently completed his education at Boise Junior College and obtained a degree in engineering. He is now employed by the department of highways as an engineer.

Elimination of controls urged

DETROIT (UPI) — A Phase III wage-price—the primary objective of which would be the elimination of all controls and the return to "the discipline of the competitive market"—was proposed Tuesday by General Motors Chairman Richard C. Gerstenberg.

As envisioned by Gerstenberg, Phase III would set "reasonable and understandable" criteria for both wages and prices—5-12 per cent for annual increases in wages and 2-12 per cent per year for prices.

Only price or wage hikes that exceed these criteria would be subject to review by a review board of presidentially appointed government officials. Once inflation is moderated, he said, controls would be terminated.

Gerstenberg's proposed economic policy to succeed Phase II when it expires on April 30, 1973, was contained in year-end statement that contained predictions for another record year in automotive sales.

Passenger car sales could reach 11.5 million in 1973—topping by a half million the production of Henry Ford II of Ford Motor Co.—while truck sales may reach 2.75 million for a total in the area of a record 14 million vehicles in 1973.

Gerstenberg also announced planned expenditures of $1.3 billion worldwide in 1973—$300 million more than 1972.

But, he said, there must be changes made in the nation's economic policy now that the pressure of inflation has been lessened.
